Many events make up our school year.
 Some will be remembered more vividly by students than others,
 but every event, no matter how small,
 helps to fill the pattern
 of life for our school.
 Sports events, our classes, elected offices and our social life will be remembered differently by various people. But, no matter what is remembered
 best, everyone will have good memories of West
 Lafayette Senior High School.

No mooching in line!!

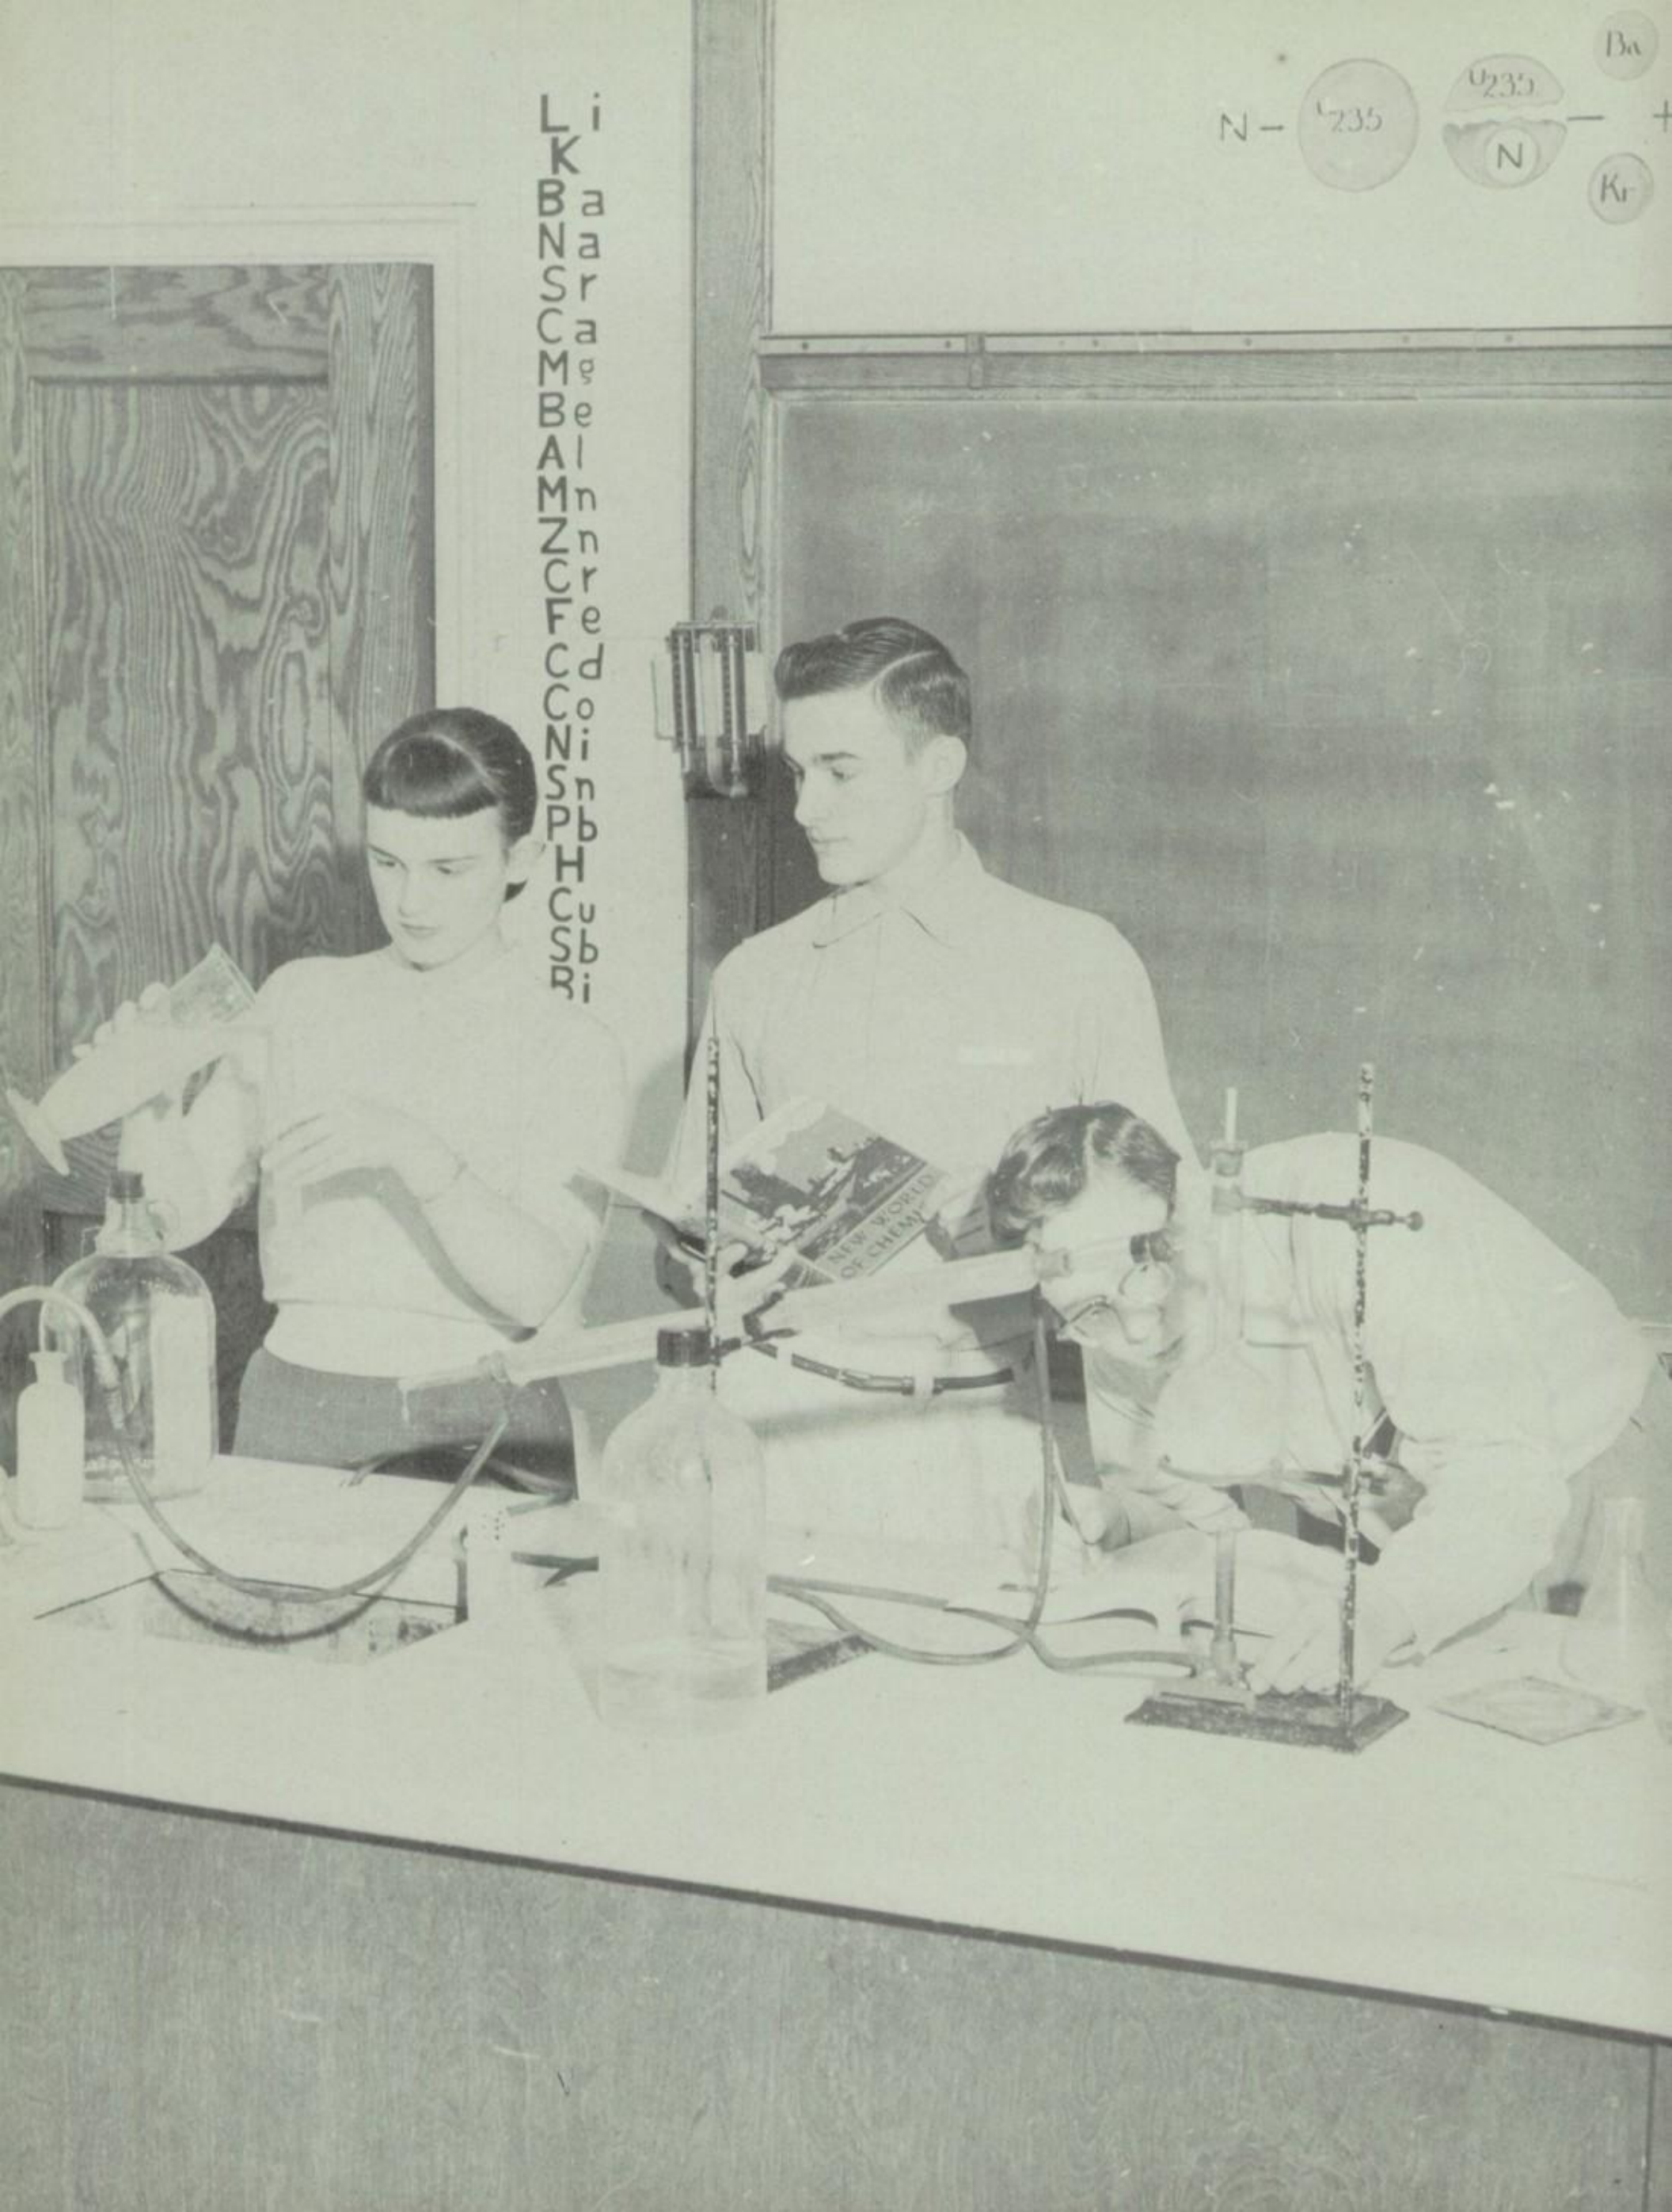

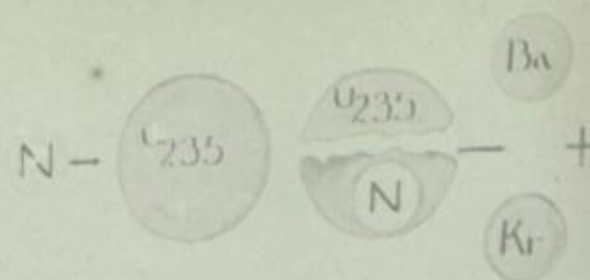

Getting Acquainted

These two are getting acquainted???

It is well understood that the friends we have made in high school are the ones that will last forever. Our meal gatherings at noon.... the Ahea picnic in the fall where the freshmen meet the upperclassmen.... banquets given by the Hi-Y and Girls' Club.... all the events which give us opportunities to meet each other's parents. Sports and classes also help us to become better acquainted with our teachers. These priceless opportunities to make friends will always be remembered.

Preparing For The Future

The word work, when pertaining to classes, can bring to our minds many humorous experiences as well as serious ones. There are those moments when we are in deep concentration during a class and are suddenly interrupted by the blare of Latin students singing "Roma Ardent," and how confused we got when we walked into chemistry class, but yet walked out with the feeling of confidence. The knowledge our minds have gained in our classes will always be useful to us.

"How can you tell what scale you're on?"

Nothing like an exciting evening at home!!

Enjoying

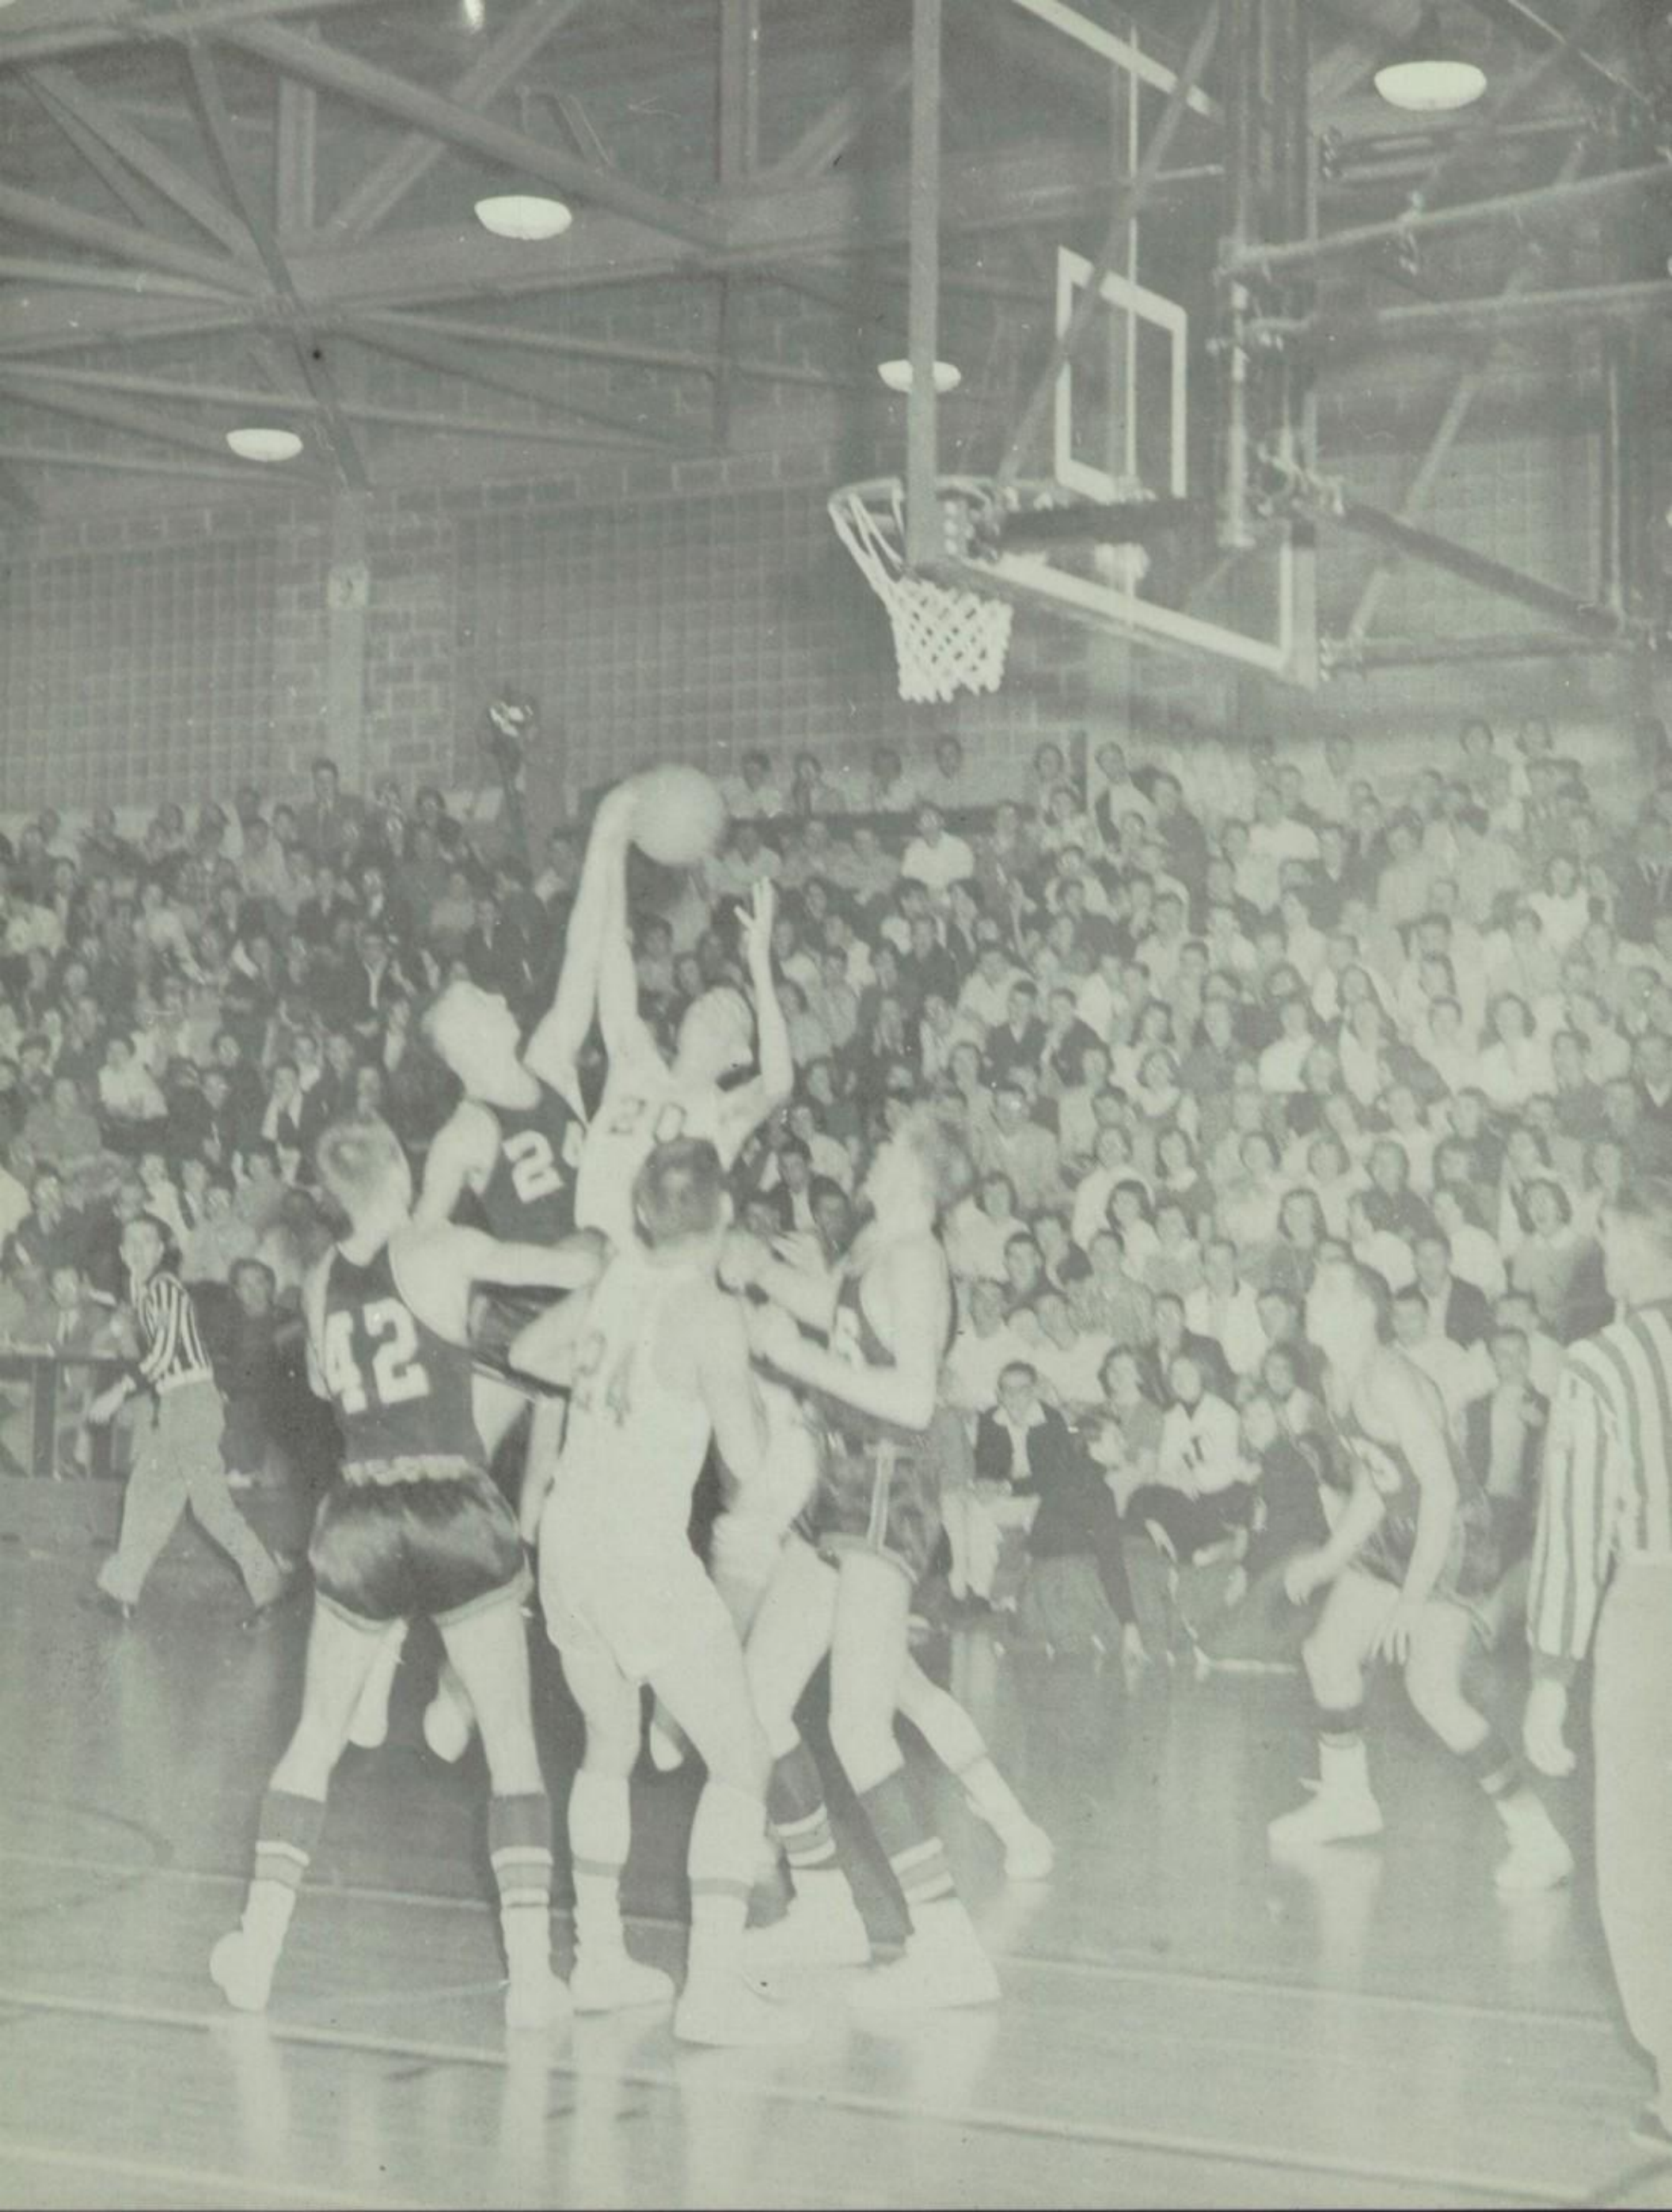

"Hey, let's have a party!!"

"I wonder if I look all right?"

If it weren't for the social events, our minds would lack the spark that is needed to take us through the school year. Our Back To School Dance starts the year with a bang...mixers and sock hops after our home football and basketball games add to our school spirit as well as to our own enjoyment. Of course, we could never forget the jitterbug parties or going into homes and skillfully raiding our best friend's refrigerator. New Year's Eve provides an excuse to celebrate and

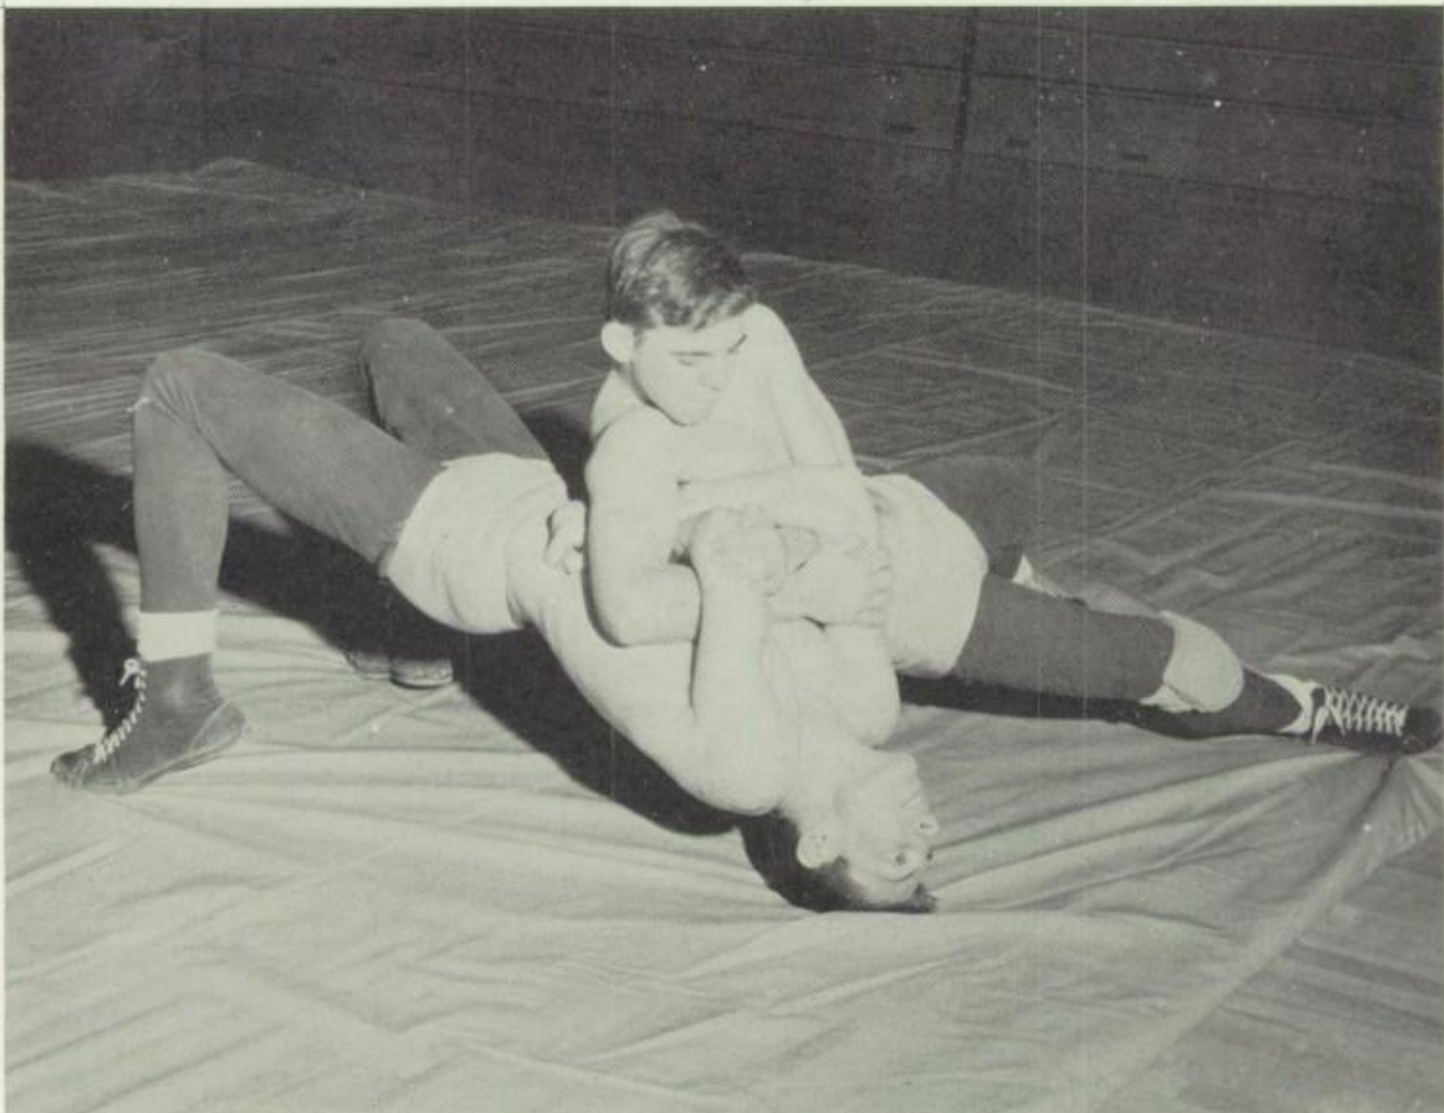

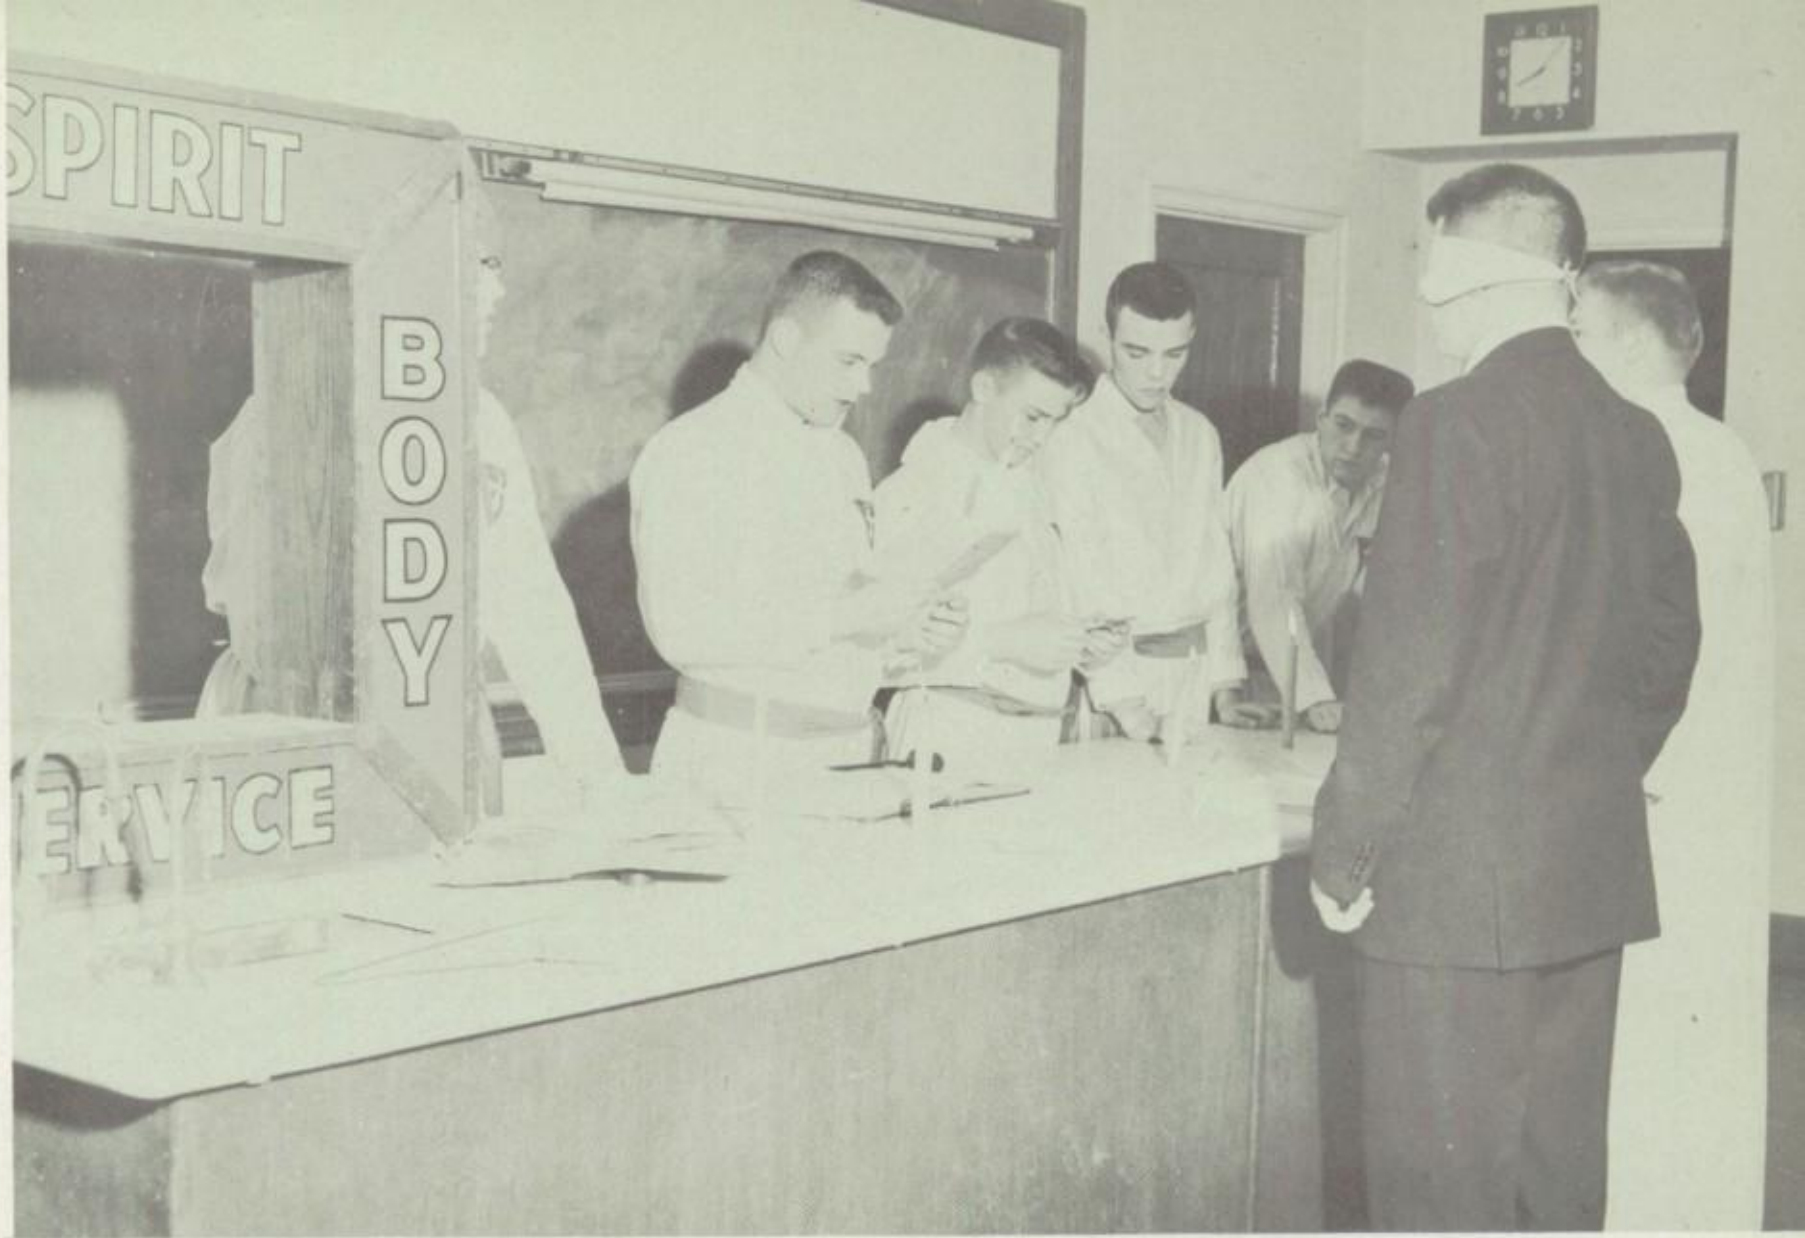

Establishing Sportsmanship

Sports hold our school together by putting a spirit into us that makes us want to cheer our teams as they play game after game. Through our competitive and clean sports, our boys learn to cooperate with others, and sportsmanship thrives without even mentioning the word. The colliding of bodies in football, the swish of the net in basketball, the crack of the bat in baseball and the thrills in track, golf and tennis have made sports unforgettable.

"Oh my aching neck!"

We gain by accepting responsibilities.

Holding Important Positions

Opportunities for becoming a leader in our school were presented to us as soon as we entered the doors of WLHS. Some joined the Scarlette staff; others were elected as representatives to different clubs. One freshman started as a member of the Student Council. Later, our interest as freshmen paid off as we were elected to committee heads, and finally, officers of important clubs and editors of school publications. These positions gave us valuable experience in dealing with people that will be priceless to us in our future lives.

Announcements are a necessary duty.

The Fun We Have Had

Carolyn Little, left, and Elizabeth Beeson, ranked second and first in their class respectively, admire the National Honor Society plaque.

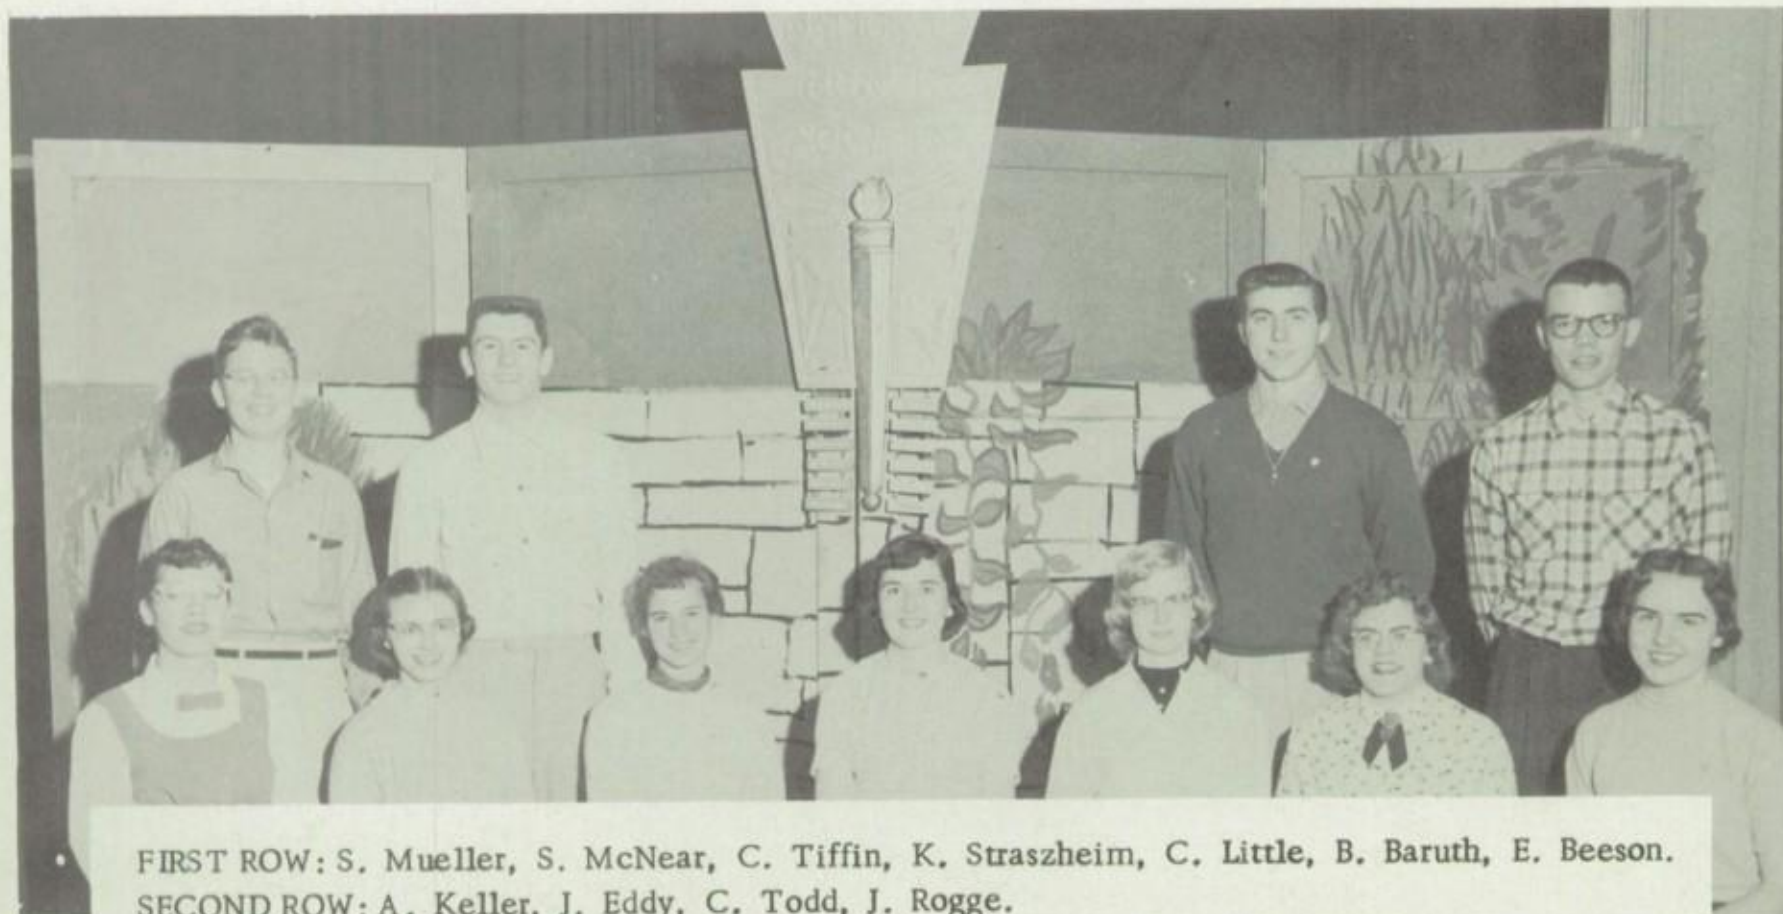

Senior Scholars

The National Honor Society, which was organized at West Lafayette High School in 1935, awards membership to the outstanding senior students each year.

In order to be elected to the Honor Society, a senior must be high in scholarship, leadership, character, and service, and is required to have a cumulative index of 5.0. These are the requirements that the faculty considers when choosing members of the Honor Society. The total number of members may not exceed 15 per cent of the class.

This year's members are:

Betty Baruth	Sandra McNear
Elizabeth Beeson	Sondra Mueller
John Eddy	Jim Rogge
Allan Keller	Karen Straszheim
Carolyn Little	Cathy Tiffin
Charles Todd

Government Of, By, And For The Students

Our Student Council, one of the busiest organizations in school, was headed by Bill Huron, president, Elizabeth Beeson, vice-president; and Paula Moriarty, secretary-treasurer.

The Student Council carries on specific duties around school like all the other organizations. If you run out of paper, you can buy it from the Student Council representative in the attendance office before classes in the morning or afternoon. Our many good convocations this year were planned by the Student Council members and a faculty committee.

The Student Accident Insurance program offered to students can be credited to the Student Council. This provides insurance for any accident received while in school. As a result of Student Council labors, activity tickets are a big saving to students.

Black And White And Read All Over

Have you ever met a deadline with a headline? Scarlette editors, Betty Baruth and Bill Huron worried many an hour over the "BIG BLACK TYPE."

Giving their ideas, services and talents were the Scarlett staff editors: Rosalind Payne and Cathy Tiffin, news; Mimi Cohen and Gretchen Counsman, features; A. E. Kemmer and Jim Rogge, sports; Allan Keller and Ronnie Roberts, advertising; Judy Henderson and Mary Losey, circulation; Derek Sharvelle, photography; and Mary Lou Marshall, art. Sondra Mueller as business manager was in charge of balancing the books. Mr. Howard Evans served as advisor.

The Scarlette is enrolled in the National Scholastic Press Association and has won first class rating for the past two years. Two special feature issues of the Scarlette, the Christmas issue with stories, poems, and essays written by students, and the April Fool issue, were also published.

Scarlette Chiefs: Bill Huron, Howard Evans, and Betty Baruth.

Nothing Like Late Hours

Equipped with a vocabulary that included such terms as "morgue" and "bleeding in the "gutters" Annual editors, Jane Jamison and Chuck Todd, directed their staffs in the formation of this book. The foundation of the book began at Indiana University's Editors' Workshop where Jane and Chuck drew thumbnail sketches representing these pages.

When school began, the advertising staff under Liesel Kohnke and John Eddy set out soliciting "ads" from local merchants. Allan Keller, as business manager, handled the financial problems. Within a few weeks literary editors Sondra Mueller and Rosalind Payne handed out copy assignments to their staff.

With a new printing process, offset, in use this year the jobs of layout editors Cathy Tiffin and Elizabeth Beeson meant burning the midnight oil to get everything "just right."

Carol Arden and Mary Lou Marshall, art editors, designed the cover and looked after all other art work in the book. Sonya Stewart and Betsy Randolph compiled the list of senior activities while sport news was written by George Gilchrist and his staff.

Dick Fontaine and Paula Moriarty headed the circulation staff and hounded us until we bought one of these priceless volumes.

Active Men About School

OFFICERS: J. Rogge, J. Eddy, G. Kuipers, B. Shigley.
Sponsor: Mr. Howard Evans. MISSING: B. Castell, J. Milligan.

Ushering at the football and basketball games is only one of the duties of a Hi-Y member. Selling cokes at these sports events is another of the services of Hi-Y. Bill Shigley was responsible for the selection of the varied programs this year which included "Doc" Miller's annual talk and some football highlights by Mr. Stuart Holcomb, Purdue football coach.

Membership is open to junior and senior boys. With the guidance of Mr. Howard Evans, sponsor, this year's Hi-Y officers Bill Castell, president; Bill Shigley, vice-president; Jim Milligan, secretary; John Eddy, treasurer; George Kuipers, sergeant-at-arms; and Jim Rogge, Chaplain; were responsible for the successful year.

The versatile Girls' Club, under able leadership, performed another year of service to our school.

Its diversified calendar included such events as the Mothers' Tea, the Father-Daughter Banquet, and sponsorship of several dances. Service committee heads, Theresa De Vries and Susan Risk, were in charge of collecting items for a needy family at Christmas. They served as Girls' Club representatives on the planning board for the vocational conference. Selling candy at home football and basketball games was supervised by ways and means committee chairman Ann Buche and Susie Dienhart. Dances, such as the Golddigger's Ball, were handled by Cathy Tiffin and Molly Loop and their social committee. Arrangements for the football and basketball queen coronations were the duties of Karen Straszheim and Liz Hoxsie, booster committee Charimen.

Faculty sponsors were Miss Ruth Sinks and Miss Mary Ann Schrader.

Officers: Betsy Randolph, Elizabeth Beeson, Janet Woodruff, Carolyn Little. Sponsors: Miss Ruth Sinks, Miss Mary Ann Schrader.

One Big Happy Family

Picnics, parties, and dances. What fun! But that is only part of the story of Ahea. It has a serious side too. For example, Ahea cooperated with the Junior Red Cross, and members of the executive committee visited classes to explain the work of this organization. As a result, most of the student body became Junior Red Cross members. Ahea also sends magazines to soldiers overseas.

One of the highlights of the year was rough initiation of the freshmen. They went through a thrilling (??) Fun House and then each did an imitation of a senior girl whom they had been observing. Ahea sponsors two formal dances during the year, the New Year's Eve Dance with Girls' Club and the Shamrock Ball in March.

President Mary Lou Marshall, vice-president Lucy Freehafer, secretary Barbara Messersmith, and treasurer Sandra McNear along with Ahea sponsor, Mrs. Ruth Hamlin made this an interesting year for all members.

Officers: Barbara Messersmith, Lucy Freehafer, Sandra McNear, Mary Lou Marshall. Sponsor: Mrs. Ruth Hamlin.

Comedy And Tragedy

Speech Arts, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Harriett Mueller, provides an opportunity for aspiring actors and actresses, W.L. variety, to participate in dramatics. Speech Arts' members may gain experience in other areas of the speech field by giving orations, participating in debates, or entering forensic contests.

This year the program varied from a make-up demonstration to a radio broadcast. "The Tenth Word" was presented at the annual Speech Arts one-act play festival.

The club's annual three act play was a great success again this year. It was a comedy entitled "Captain Applejack."

Top Sportsmen

OFFICERS: G. Gilchrist, E. Beck, J. Van Meeter, and Mr. Gordon Straley, sponsor.

The members of the West Lafayette Lettermen's Club are known by their gray sweaters decorated with a scarlet and gray W. L. monogram.

The club is composed of the top athletes of West Lafayette High School. Each year they sponsor a mixer and give awards to the two most improved players on the "A" team and "B" team basketball squad. These players are chosen by the members of their respective teams. Their annual picnic is held for anyone who has participated in sports during the year. This year the lettermen assisted in the sale of basketball season tickets.

Ernie Beck served as president of the W. L. Club with Jack Van Meeter as vice-president and George Gilchrist as secretary-treasurer. Mr. Gordon Straley is the sponsor of the club.

Sport Enthusiasts

OFFICERS: D. Robinson, J. Hatke, K. Baker, and Miss Bernice Fites, sponsor.

The Girls' Athletic Association has had an active year under the sponsorship of Miss Bernice Fites and the leadership of its officers Kaye Baker, president; Delores Robinson, vice-president; Jean Hatke, secretary; and Gonny Belinfante, treasurer. G. A. A. has offered girls at W. L. many sports from which to choose.

The members achieve awards based on points received from participating in soccer, volleyball, swimming, bowling, tennis, badminton, tumbling, basketball, and archery. The girls on the G. A. A. archery team went to the Northern Indiana Archery Tournament at Huntington in November. They also took part in the National Inter-Scholastic Archery Tournament.

Bowling sponsored by G. A. A. for both boys and girls was held in the Purdue Union building on Wednesday afternoons. Awards were given to the members of the winning team.

Mechanical Men

"At your service," could well be the motto of the Technical Equipment Crew. Boys from all four classes are eligible to work in the T. E. C. They serve a one year apprenticeship and then receive their T. E. C. key.

Mr. Fred Breckenridge, their sponsor, teaches them the operation and maintenance of the school equipment. T. E. C. members are on call during the day for such jobs as running the movie projector, manipulating lights for the various convocations, plays, and other activities in the auditorium. They also assist in running the score board for football and basketball games.

Food in general is a popular thing at Den every Tuesday night.

Tuesday Night Entertainment

You don't have to go downtown and pay out good money to see such movies as "TAKE CARE OF MY LITTLE GIRL," "CALL ME MADAM," and "THE BLACK ROSE." Members of the Red Devils Den saw these and many more at the regular Tuesday night sessions. The Den is a recreational activity open to all students who purchase a season card.

The Den is a wonderful place to meet your friends, to relax, and to eat. In the spring the Den sponsors a dance and the Annual Signing Party which is held during the last few days of school.

President Ginger Vaught; vice-president, Jane Fuller; and secretary-treasurer, Mary Losey; along with our faculty sponsors, Mr. Eddy and Mr. Bush, and a student Den Board make this organization a success.

"In The Mood"

In the DEVILTRIES the dance band provided the music for the chorus line's numbers.

The West Lafayette High School Dance Band is a traditional feature of the Deviltries, football and basketball mixers, school dances, and they even have become well enough known to play for outside affairs. Dreamy Glen Miller favorites and arrangements by Mr. Howenstein and Bill Castell are the band's specialties. Thursday evenings are dance band practices. The boys and Karen Straszheim, the pianist and the only girl instrumentalist in the organization, have taken it upon themselves to meet regularly in order to bring the school top notch entertainment. Vocal assignments were ably handled by Betsie Kemmer.

All the gang are music lovers and really add a great deal to the music department.

In May of 1954, Troupe No. 1385 of National Thespian Society was organized in our school. Seniors in the list of twenty charter members are Mimi Cohen, Sondra Mueller, Betsy Randolph, Gretchen Counsman, Allan Keller, Chuck Todd, Cathy Tiffin, and Jane Jamison.

National Thespian Society is the National Dramatic Arts Recognition Club whose membership consists of those who have done outstanding work in the field of dramatics.

Officers of Troupe 1385 are Cathy Tiffin, president; Chuck Todd, vice-president; Sondra Mueller, secretary; Allan Keller, Scribe; and Betsy Randolph, treasurer. Mrs. Harriett Mueller is the Troupe's sponsor.

Room For One More

Raising two children of their own and three from an orphan's home was the problem of Dave Selby and Marilyn Myers who portrayed "Poppy" and Mrs. Rose in the Junior Class play, "Room for One More."

Peggy Cable and Susie Dienhart played the parts of the Roses' children while Pete Tinsley and Liz Hoxsie performed the parts of the first two adopted children. Bill Risk warmed the hearts of the audience as the crippled boy from the orphan's home.

Other roles were portrayed by Ann Davis, Judy Newlin, Bruce Sherwood, Bette Speaker, and Norma Gocker.

The production was directed by Mrs. Harriet Mueller with Molly Loop as student director. Technical advisor was Mrs. Elizabeth Leer.

Bill receives helpful suggestions on a difficult passage.

It's all over. Some are happy, and some feel sad that it's over so soon.

Pigskin Review

Co-captain George Gilchrist, Coach Gordon Straley, Co-captain John Manhart.

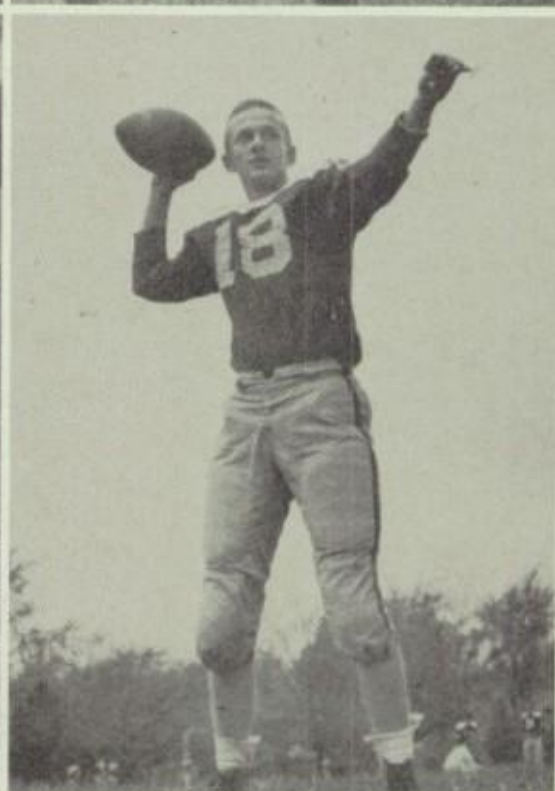

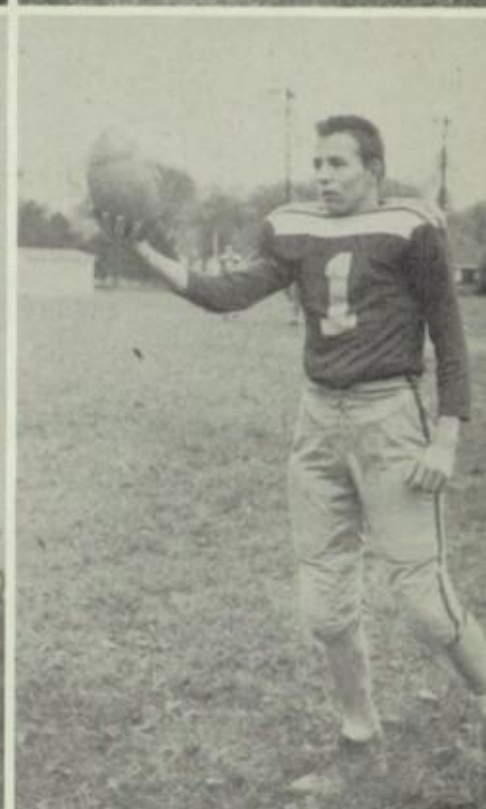

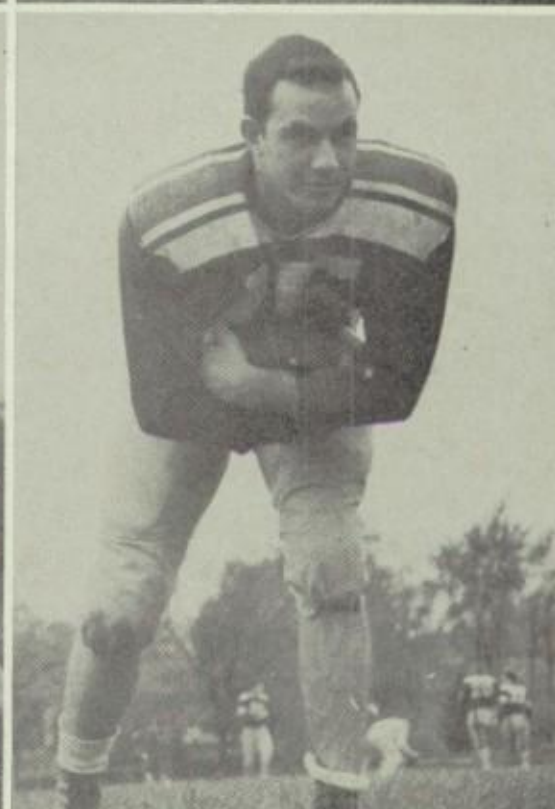

Bill - Sure hate to see you go - you've been a credit to our squad, and I certainly appreciate your loyalty, your spirit, and cooperation. Best wishes for your future.
Gordy

The largest grid turnout in several seasons greeted Coach Gordon Straley and his able assistants, Ken Bush, Bill Berberian, Fred Breckenridge and Dick Allen. Last fall the Scarlets depended largely upon seniors and so this season the coaches found themselves facing a job of rebuilding with underclassmen. Here is a summary of the nine games played during the '54 season.

The Elwood Panthers proved too much for the Red Devils as we lost our home opener on September 10 by the score of 33-6. John Taylor helped considerably in saving us from a shut-out.

September 17 the Logansport Berries presented an even bigger line than Elwood, but the crafty Devils won 13-7. Mike McFadden scored the winning TD as he ran 65 yards with a third quarter kickoff.

Again we played an undefeated team, Lebanon, but West Side came out on top with a score of 12-0. Ernie Beck, behind terrific blocking, gained a total of 126 yards.

The Crawfordsville game was a heartbreaker to W.L. as we lost 13-12. The point after touchdown in the fourth quarter put C'ville in the winner's circle.

Twenty to seven was the score of the game with Washington of Indianapolis. A couple of fumbles and some payoff first downs in the fourth quarter proved a homecoming for the Continentals.

Another undefeated team and one which remained undefeated all season was the Rensselaer Bombers as they gave us our worst defeat of the season, 40-0.

Back on the winning side again were the Devils when we beat Delphi 13-0. The winners countered with 11 first downs.

Frankfort went down in defeat at our homecoming October 29 with a score of 12-6. Chip Holcomb's passes to John Eddy were responsible for the touchdowns.

Our best and last game was played November 5 against Griffith. Although we lost 14-12, the Devils played a fine game against a tough team.

Football Royalty

Mimi Cohen reigned as queen over the West Lafayette football season homecoming game played with Frankfort on October 29th. The queen and her court circled the field at half-time in sharp new convertibles which were loaned by local automobile dealers and townspeople.

Karen Straszheim, Girls' Club Booster committee chairman, was mistress of ceremonies, and Bill Castell, drum major of the band and president of Hi-Y, crowned Queen Mimi with a lovely coronet of white roses.

Basketball Queen

Suspense was in the air the night of the Delphi vs. W. L. basketball game. Only two people knew the identity of the 1955 queen (not even she).

Karen Strasheim and Liz Hoxie, Girls' Club Booster Chairmen, kept their secret well.

The white carpet was laid across the full length of the court at half time. Chuck Todd stepped to the microphone after just being informed, and announced the candidates and escorts as they walked forward: Sandy Frazer, Scott Snyder; Betsy Randolph, John Manhart; Patti Peyton, John Bachman; Mary Lou Marshall, Bill Huron; Marsha Herrick, George Gilchrist; and Lucy Freehafer escorted by Jerry Woods.

A hush fell over the capacity crowd as Chuck said, "The 1955 West Lafayette Basketball Queen is--Marsha Herrick!!"

Bill Castell set the lovely crown of red roses on Marsha's head as the pages, Paula Moriarty and Ann Davis, gave gifts of white satin cologne and a special surprise of white orchids to the girls.

Nifty Netmen

The West Lafayette fans were treated to a very fine season by the men from the hardwood this year, as Coach Bill Berberian's quintet Won 11 and Lost 7.

Covington was first to fall before the Devil's onslaught, as some sharp free throw shooting gave W. L. a 43-32 victory.

Two two-point losses dropped the Scarlets below the .500 mark. These losses were administered by Zionsville, 42-40, and Frankfort, 47-45.

Hoosier Conference foe Flora was downed next, 47-45. The squad was led by sharp-shooting center Keith Wagner, who netted twenty points.

West Lafayette hosted Lebanon and dumped the Tigers, 39-27.

The Devils pushed through twenty-two points in the final frame to take another win by way of Greencastle on December 11, 60-52.

The trip to Crawfordsville proved too much for the Devils, as a highly touted C'ville five downed us, 45-34.

The Monticello game was a sad loss for W. L. fans as our team took a 52-41 beating.

Talking things over are coach Bill Berberian and captain Jim Rogge.

"Off my back, buddy!"

"Get that ball!"

"Where's my arm?"

FIRST ROW: E. Beck, M. Haw, J. Rogge, J. Eddy. SECOND ROW: B. Backoff, C. Holcomb, K. Wagner, J. Smalley, D. Knoll, J. Rogers.

The Devils lost a hard fought game to rival Jeff 61-54. Wagner and Holcomb led the scoring.

The team now started on a five game winning streak. The first to fall was the Delphi Oracles, 51-29.

A trip to Rennsselaer netted us another win, when we overcame a twelve point Bomber halftime lead to win 62-54.

Marv Haw led the Devils to a 60-43 win over Rossville.

It was four in a row as Winamac fell 49-47. Backoff led with seventeen points.

A shooting percentage of .714 in the first half buried Peru.

Thorntown broke our win streak by a score of 61-44.

We came right back to beat Attica 62-41. It was another conference victory.

On February 11, Sheridan nipped the Devils, 56-53. They then occupied first place in the Hoosier Conference. Jim Rogge turned in eighteen markers to lead both teams for the evening.

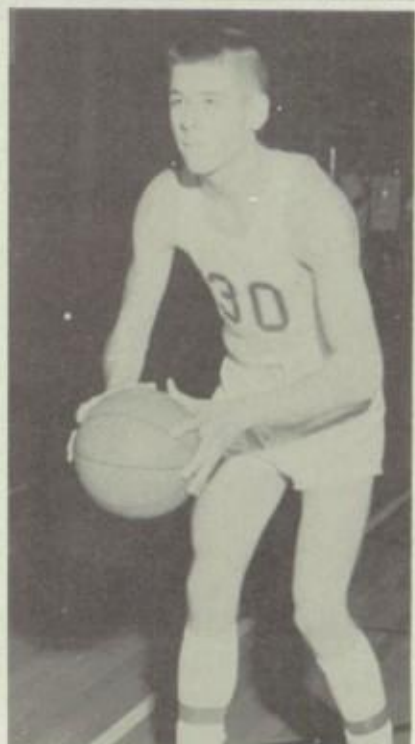

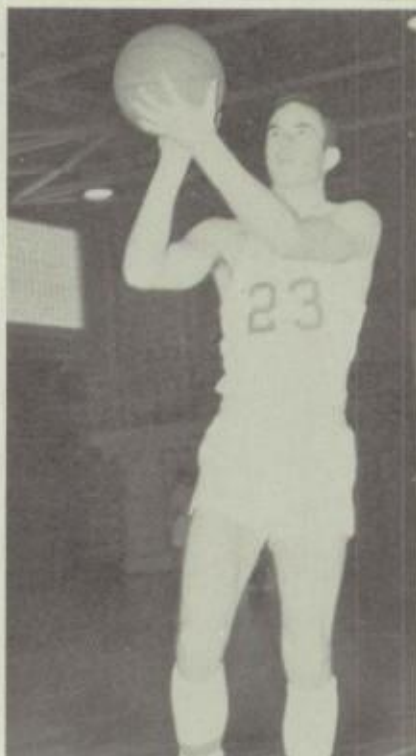

Kentland marked the end of regular season play for the Devils. We won, 46-40.

Attica downed Sheridan to give both Sheridan and West Lafayette identical conference records of 5 wins and 1 loss. This gave W.L. and Sheridan a tie for the Hoosier Conference Championship.

Chief Enthusiasts

The cheerleading group at West Lafayette High School, which has for the last few years been composed of girls, has had an active year. Head cheerleader, Phyllis Fryer, and the other cheerleaders, Marsha Herrick, Betsy Randolph, and Patti Peyton, followed the football and basketball teams, and were instrumental in forming one of West Lafayette's more organized block sections.

Cheering the basketball B-team on to victory were Susie Dienhart, Betsie Kemmer, Betsy Risk, and Diana Kemmer.

Bucket Brigade

Managing the football squad through this year's grid season was the job of managers Dave Selby, George Geib, Tom Brown, and Peter Kohnke. Chuck Edmondson, Tom Neuman, and Joe Binney took over the job of managers for the basketball team. These boys were responsible for handing out medical supplies as well as performing many other duties necessary for successful teams.

Managers: Joe Binney, Fred Samson, Tom Brown, George Geib, Tom Neuman, Chuck Edmondson, A. E. Kemmer, Dave Selby.

This year the track team did a good job under the coaching of Fred Breckenridge and spearheaded by nine experienced seniors, Jim Shenberger, Bill Huron, Bill Love, Ernie Beck, Dick Fontaine, Bill Shigley, John Eddy, Jack Van Meeter and John Manhart. Coach Breckenridge scheduled approximately ten meets for the season, with the Hoosier Conference being held here in April. Last year West Lafayette placed third in the conference.

The team was also backed by several underclassmen who had looked quite promising last year.

Home Run Heroes

Baseball practice began in May under coach, William Berberian, and will continue through the summer months.

This year's team showed a decrease of many letter winners, but enthusiasm is high and there are several underclassmen who show promise.

Last season West Lafayette won the newly formed summer league under the tremendous pitching of Marv Haw, who didn't lose a game all season.

Besides Marvin other team members include Jim Rogge, Bob Backoff, Bill Haw, Jim Rogers, Dave Sabbagh, Jim Smalley and John Taylor.

Minor Leagues

Under the supervision of Coach Don Fites, the Red Devil golfers started swinging into shape as the end of March came. The first match was here with Kentland, April 22. After the regular season, the squad planned to play in the state tourney held on May 14, at one of the Indianapolis golf courses.

The wrestling team showed considerable improvement this year as they finished the year with a record of one win against six losses. Kokomo was the first team to down the matmen, as they turned the trick 38-20; while Peru slipped by the Devils 26-22 in a home match. The third loss came at the hands of Indianapolis Crispus Attucks, 32-13. A strong Crawfordsville squad dumped the Scarlets 33-11. West Side managed a mere two points on a draw as we were whipped by Decatur Central, 45-2. Ben Davis rapped the matmen in our second home match of the year as they took home an easy 38-8 victory. The finale of the season saw the Devils pick up their first win of the season as the much improved squad beat Crispus Attucks in a return match, 23-21.

The W. L. tennis squad opened the season against Jeff, April 14. Matches with Frankfort, Peru, Logansport, and Crawfordsville followed.

The Knowledge We Have Gained

Does the reader have everyone's attention?

A Look At The Book

From "Midsummer Night's Dream" to "Macbeth" and from parts of speech to senior themes, the four years of English serve as a foundation for all future communication. A book report to write, an editorial to compose, a talk to prepare, all contribute to the total preparation for confident good usage of English.

An elective course in journalism which uses the "Scarlette" as an opportunity for the printing of journalistic adventures of the class.

As juniors we increase our speed of reading by using the shadowsopes in the developmental laboratory as well as studying grammar and American Literature.

English staff: Mrs. Harriett Mueller, Mrs. Elizabeth Leer, Miss Ruth Sinks, Mr. Howard Evans.

Speak Your Mind

That first speech is a terrifying experience, which is shared by every member of the speech class. As poise and confidence replace shaky knees and trembling voices, routine talks give way to debates, interviews, and pantomines. To enter oratorical contests and to take part in radio and television programs provide valued opportunities.

The second semester speech course includes many one act plays as well as the history of drama. Students learn techniques in acting, student directing, how to apply make-up, and many other skills that are necessary in presenting a play.

The knowledge of the theater arts insure a lasting interest in drama. Speech instructor: Mrs. Harriett Mueller.

Parliamentary procedure is used by all.

The goal of the producer is profit.

Events Of Today And Yesterday

Social studies, history, and government! These names ring a bell with all seniors after taking the required social studies courses at W. L.

Who was the greatest ruler of Rome? For what was Napoleon famous? Any sophomore can tell you. As sophs, we learn much about world history by lecture, as well as by reports, records, and movies.

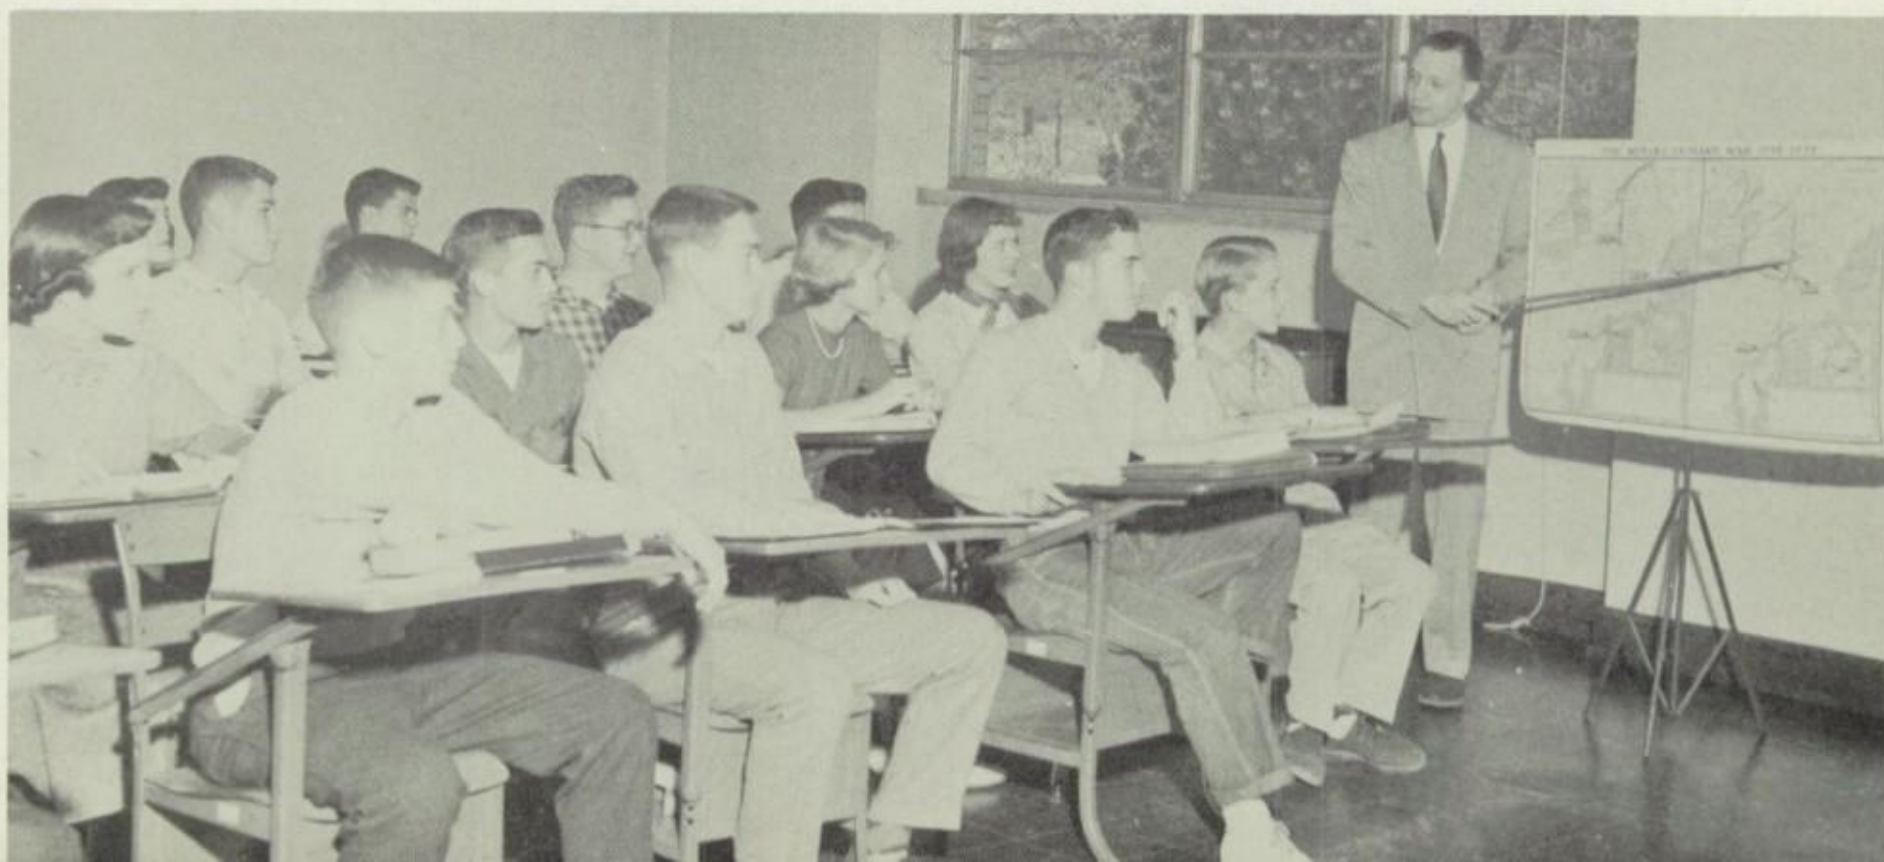

The Juniors enjoy hearing about Ulysses S. Grant and his big black cigars, as well as absorbing more important facts about our democracy.

Do you understand price trends, unemployment, labor problems, and financial situations? All this and much more is ably explained in a senior course called economics. The second semester, the seniors advance into the study of civics which deals with the formation and functions of our government.

Social studies staff: Mrs. Gladys Isaac, Mr. Eric Casson, Mr. William Berberian, Mr. Chester Eddy.

Hey, George, the Redcoats are coming!

Background Language For Sciences

By means of records, tape recordings, grammar drills, and just plain listening and reading, students of German gradually achieve a working usage of another language. Bewilderment of beginners changes to satisfaction when they can call to their friends "Guten morgan" and "Wie gehts?" German literature, history, and songs--all contribute to an understanding of international relationships so necessary to the present day world. Frequently during the year, interesting German films acquired from the German Tourist Bureau are shown. Two years of this language serve to stimulate an interest for further study.

Instructor: Mr. Chester Eddy.

Translate the next paragraph (if you can).

In Rome, Do As The Romans Do

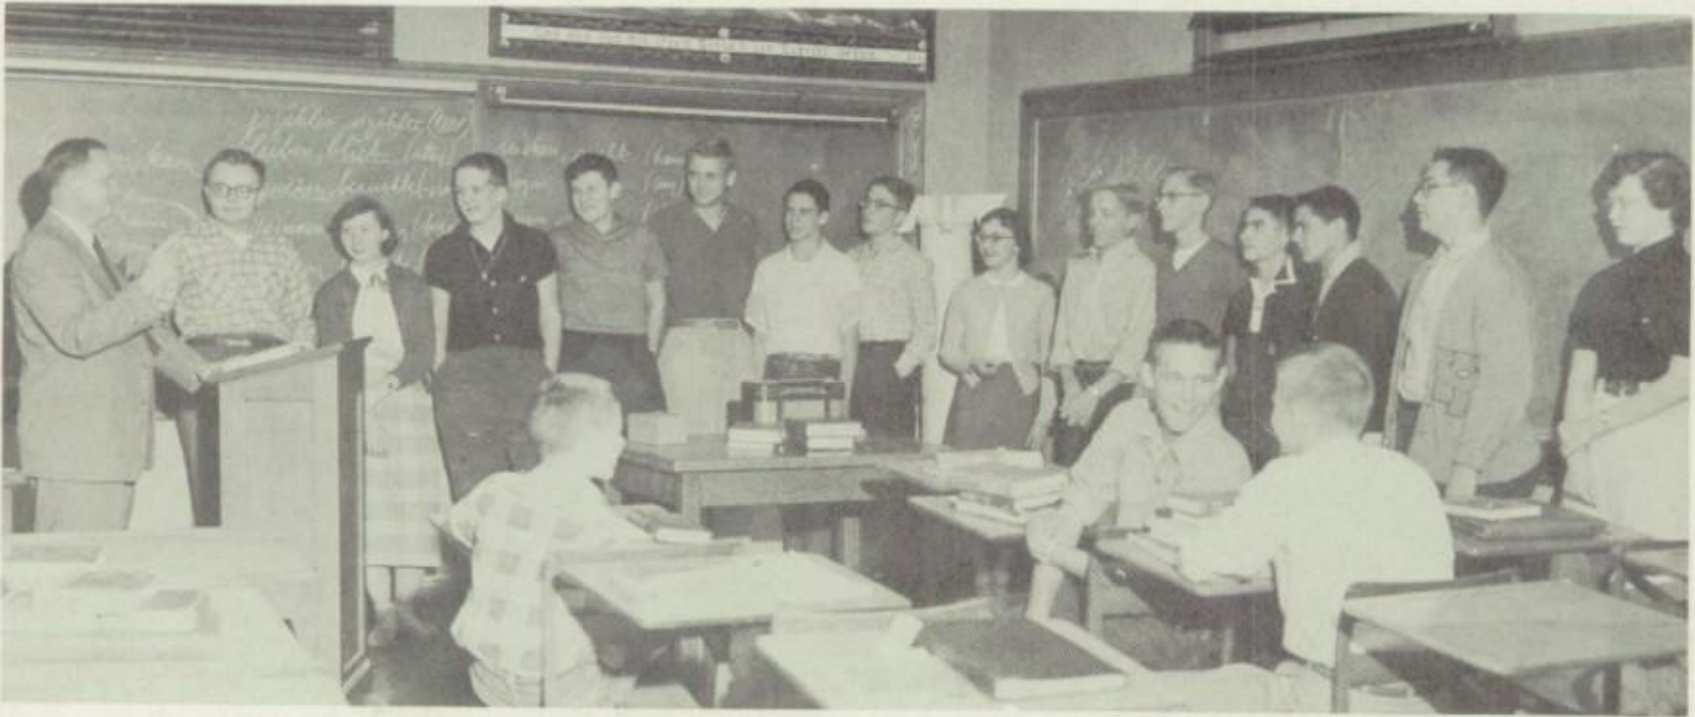

"Roma ardet! Roma ardet! Cave! Cave!" are familiar strains to all Latin students and others who have classes on the top floor. Besides singing, grammar, vocabulary, and Roman life are studied. One day a week is devoted to learning the customs of the Romans.

While first year students learn to pronounce v's in Latin words as w's, second year students refight Caesar's Wars with the Gauls. Learning about Gaul's famous three divisions provides many a perplexing moment for W. L. Latin students.

One of the highlights of the Roman season is the Roman Banquet. With freshman girls dressed in tunics and sandals serving as slaves, the rest of our Latin students attired in togas and other regal clothes sit down to a cena (dinner) Roman style. This dinner adds a touch of glamour to the supposedly "dead language."

Instructor: Miss Mary Ann Schrader.

Correctly spelled, it is reichen.

A Look To The South

With the words "Como esta usted?" Spanish students begin their Spanish vocabulary. Two years of Spanish are offered to students. The first is for learning the fundamentals of writing, pronunciation, and grammar, as well as becoming acquainted with the fiestas, games, and customs of the Spanish-speaking countries.

While first year students are reading sentences of the "The burro is an animal" type, second year students spend their class hours in translating novels and more difficult stories. During this year they write letters to students in South American countries, making use of the language and acquiring new friends.

This year the linguaphone, a technique for teaching oral and common Spanish by means of a record and textbook with pictures, was introduced. It is the latest means for teaching modern languages.

Instructor: Mrs. Gladys Isaac.

Pick that Latin up.

There is a simple explanation? to why oxidation doesn't involve oxygen.

Atoms Make The World Go Around

A body submerged in liquid is buoyed upward with a force equal to the weight of the liquid displaced is a physics principle that could be paraphrased to read--a student buried in this course climbs out with a speed proportionate to his own ability. Some of us would still be climbing if we had not been promoted to the senior class.

Even so we got a great deal of good out of our physics class. We learned about the two basic things in everyday life--matter and energy.

During our senior year we study (?) chemistry. The most amazing part of the course was how fast our breakage deposits dwindled. Learning how to balance equations and studying the chemical make-up of everyday objects was only a small part of the chemistry course. Experiments with sulfur in "lab" were trying moments for everyone.

Instructor: Mrs. Mary Wolever.

Plants To People

Every summer groups of boys and girls blossom out all over town swinging insect nets. This is a sure sign they are about to become W. L. freshmen since an insect collection is a requirement in biology class. Insect study, of course, in only one part of the curriculum. Students must dissect little animals to see what makes them tick. However, the most fun of all is trips to the "outdoor laboratory" in the biological gardens across from our campus.

Biology instructor: Mr. Kenneth Bush.

This plant is green because it contains chlorophyll.

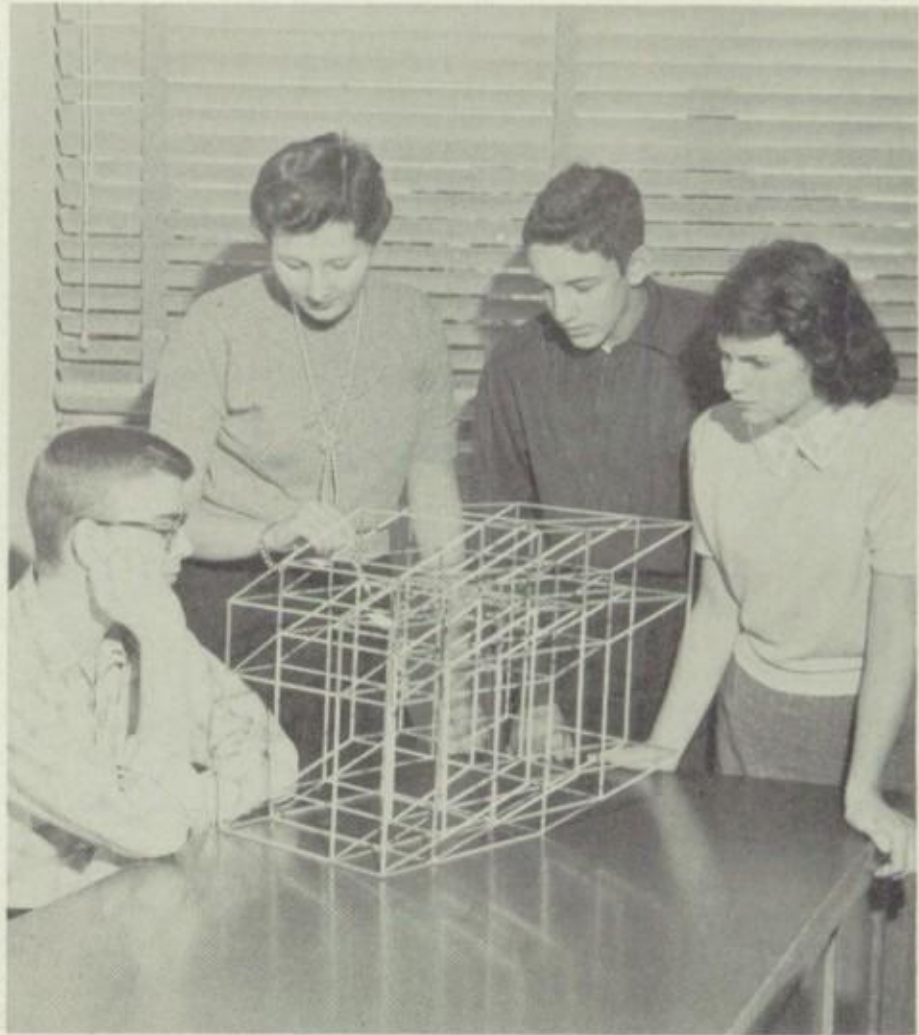

Define Parallelepiped

"Define tangent"... "My answer book must be wrong"
..."My gosh, sixty problems!"

The many hours we spent struggling over our math assignments will not easily be forgotten. But remember, mathematics is not just for outstanding students. It is a necessity for careers in engineering, medicine, science, and for figuring bowling scores, bank interest or your income tax.

As freshmen we study algebra and advance to plane geometry as sophomores. Those interested continue to take advanced and college algebra as juniors. This year for the first time a course in analytic geometry was offered. The senior math courses are solid geometry and trigonometry.

Mathematics staff: Mr. Donald Fites, Mr. Kenneth Bush, Mrs. Kathryn Brady, Mr. Carl Hammer, Mrs. Mary Wolever.

So that's the 4th dimension?

Girls aren't so ignorant.

Here We Study

"A pass to the library, please" is often asked of our study room teachers. Many students also take advantage of the facilities of the library at noon and after school. The large, well-lighted room serves as the hub for scholastic achievement, for its reference materials, magazines, and books of today and yesterday supplement our textbooks in preparation of our assignments. The student assistants, who have organized a Library Science Club this year, are always of great value in helping us find the information that we need.

Librarian: Mr. Howard Evans.

Where can I find a book Mr. Evans?

Be Your Own Secretary

The next letter is to a Mr. Jones.

TIMED WRITING.

The words "Ready-Begin" start another famous typing. Slow at first, but faster as the year progresses until we are able to type without looking at the keyboard.

Queer chicken scratches on paper are technically referred to in shorthand class as Gregg shorthand. Other people are not expected to decipher them, but it makes a hit with Mr. Paloncy if the student himself knows what they are.

Bookkeeping is taught alternately with shorthand. In addition to giving the students a background for accounting principles, a practical aspect of bookkeeping during our undergraduate days is the attempt to budget our allowances.

Seniors who have taken typing are eligible to take office practice in which they integrate typing skill with business office duties. The students obtain a working knowledge of several office machines.

Instructor: Mr. Henry Paloncy.

Artists At Work

It's really amazing how decorations are started at the last minute. All able hands in the fifth and sixth hour art classes pitch in to make another mixer or school event a success decoratively.

Besides making many posters needed for publicity purposes, W. L. artists turn out other fine products such as sketches, oil paintings, and ceramics.

Instructor: Mrs. Gwen Hammer.

What's so funny?

The World Of Mechanics

Have you ever wondered what the language of lines is? Mechanical drawing students could tell you.

Mechanical drawing includes some of the finer points of orthographic drawing, sectioning, and projecting. It is a very important part of industry, and a person who has "learned his lines" will find a place for himself wherever he may go.

Shop class students have a chance to learn by using some of the finest power tools in any Indiana high school. Included are three drill presses, three lathes, an arc welder, table saw, and numerous hand tools.

Metal work is stressed, and there is usually a line of students waiting their turn at the foundry. This year, as usual, a few boys were found trying to start the shop class auto engine.

Instructor: Mr. Fred Breckenridge.

"Letter perfect," is their motto.

Over and under.

This is a holdup.

Driving Dos And Don'ts

For thrills and chills, drivers training tops the list of courses at W. L. Thanks to a dual controlled car narrow escapes are held to a minimum as W. L. sophomores, juniors, and seniors take to the highways. Drivers training today makes high school students safer drivers for tomorrow.

Instructors: Mr. Gordon Straley, Mr. William Berberian.

Service at its best.

"Remember to bring your shirt and shorts," sounds familiar to both boy and girl gym students. The showers are even provided! What else could a student ask for, after an hour of hard physical workout? Badminton, tennis, soccer, and volleyball are a few of the activities which take place in gym classes.

Gym activities don't end with the sound of the bell. All sorts of extra activities are offered at W. L. to keep us in good physical condition. Boys eagerly sign up for intramural basketball and volleyball. Girls may prove themselves in National Archery contests and attend Play Days at other schools. Anyone can participate in the bowling league which has become very popular in the last few years.

Instructors: Miss Bernice Fites, Mr. Gordon Straley, Mr. Bill Berberian.

And this is the carburetor!

Join Us For A Good Meal

The home economics course provides for a full program in our well-equipped laboratories.

The foods and social classes are elective courses but are always filled to capacity with not only girl enthusiasts but with an equal number of boys.

A child care course, which includes First Aid, is required of all girls.

In the business world designers and interior decorators are quite in demand. W. L. students can get a fine preparatory background for many careers in sewing classes.

Another phase of home economics is the social relations program. If making friends, going steady, or dating are a few of your problems, then you may have looked into this elective given to eleventh and twelfth grade students.

With A Voice Of Singing

Karen, Carol, and Judy practice their trio number for the Deviltries.

Last fall twelve members of chorus sang in the annual All-State Choral Festival in Indianapolis. At Christmas time the entire chorus added color and beauty to the traditional convocation. The District Choral Festival at Greencastle was the usual thrilling experience for all the members of both the boys' and girls' glee clubs. A major contribution was made by the chorus to the Easter convocation, and all the choral groups exhibited unique performances at the Spring Concert. The W. L. chorus climaxed its wonderful season at Commencement; quite a few tears were shed by graduating choristers upon singing the "West Side Hymn."

Choral instructor: Miss Marcelene Dillon.

Plink, Plank, Plunk

Violins, cellos, and other "strings" contribute magic to the orchestra, which is perhaps the most dignified of school organizations.

Taking part in several convocations, the orchestra also staged one of its own as it has for many years. Even though there's much laughter and joking in this "small symphony," many fine things are accomplished. The symphonic group was rated among the very best at the band and orchestra contest which was held in our gym-auditorium. This was the first time W. L. has played host for the contest.

Our semi-professional string ensemble performed at dinners, banquets, and meetings.

Many seniors in the orchestra felt strangely out of place marching to the strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" instead of helping to create them.

Orchestra instructor: Mr. Marshall Howenstein.

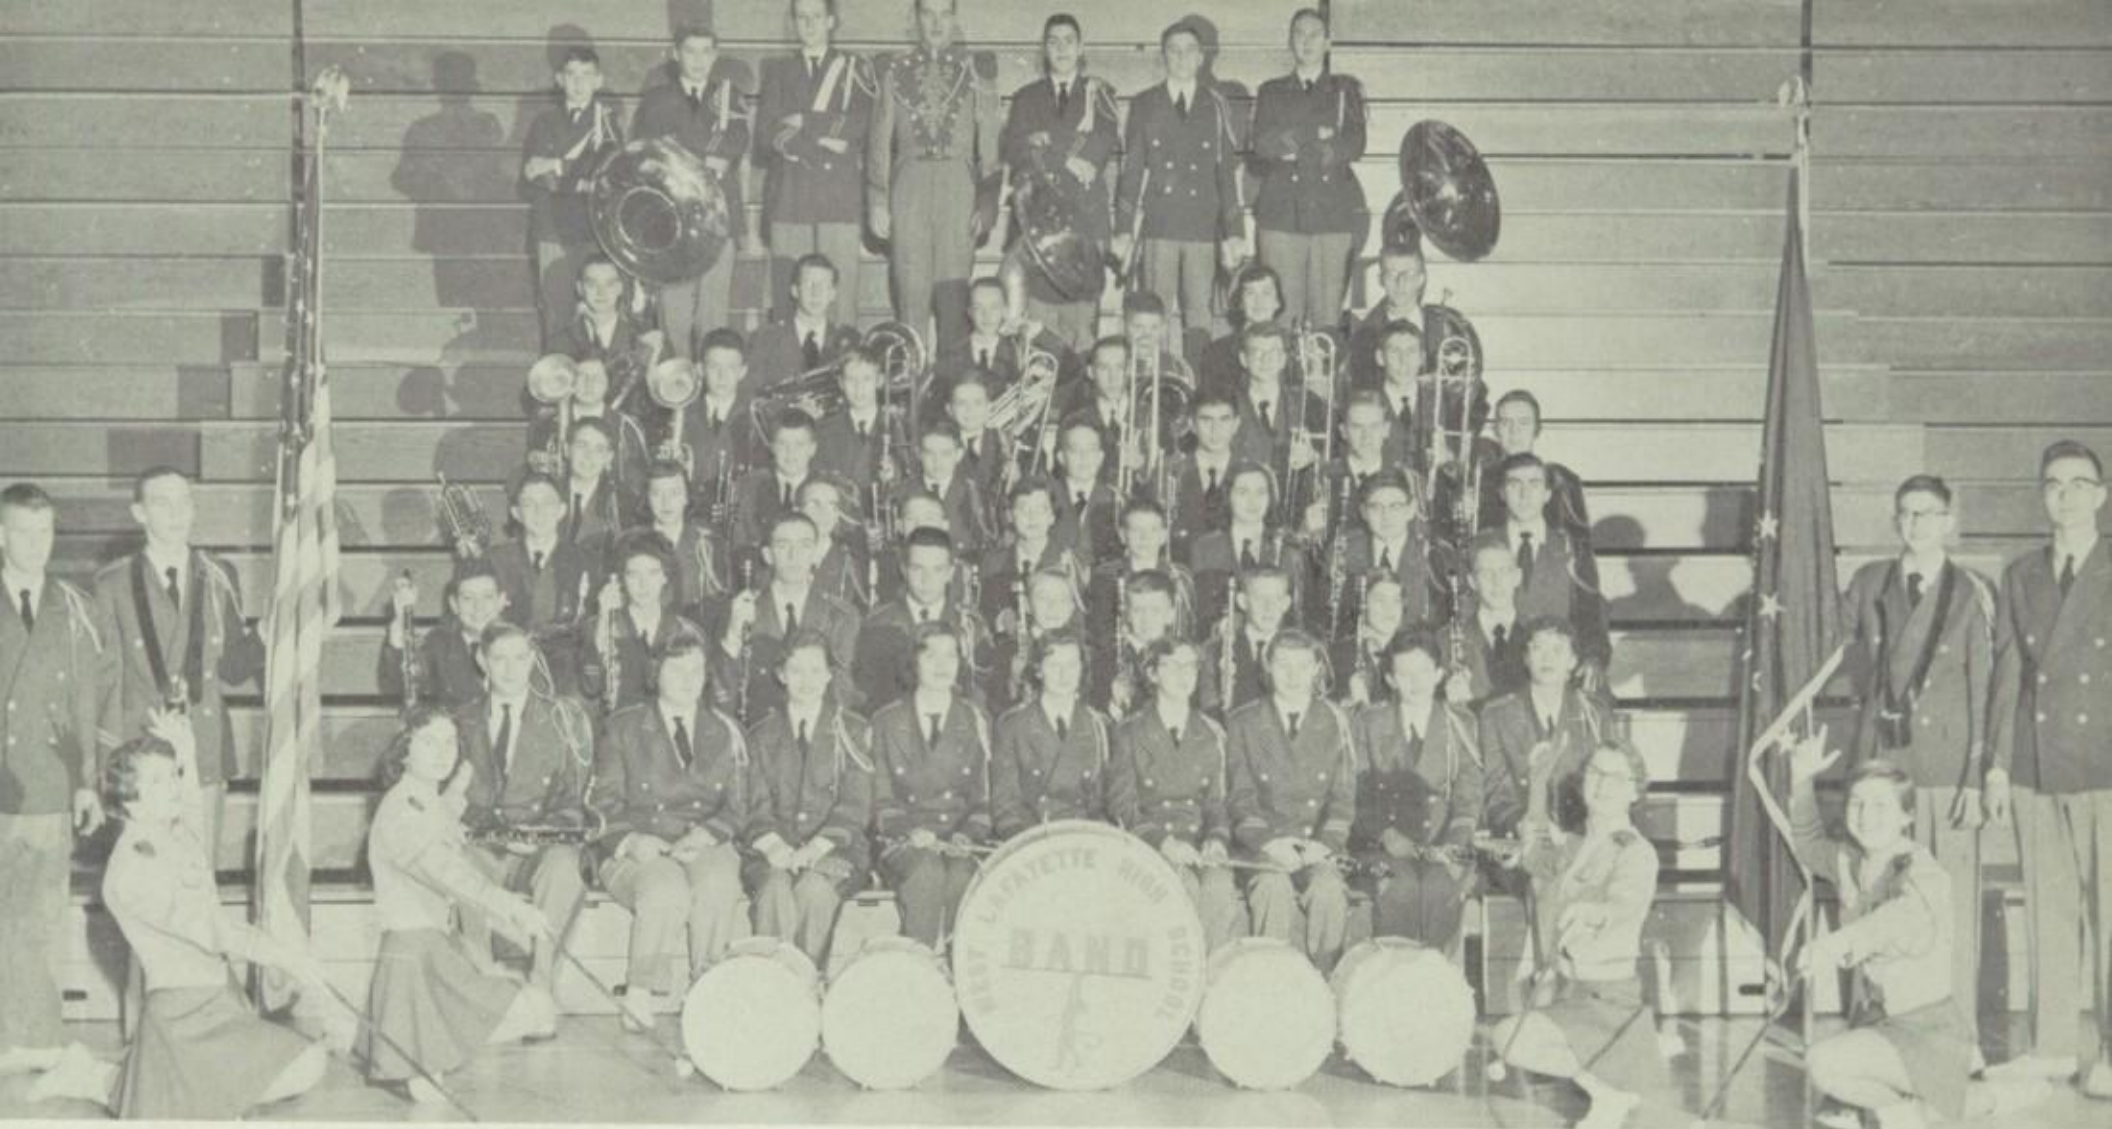

Top: "Let's go over this once more."

Bottom: "Please play in the right key boys!" (Is this possible?)

Forward March---And Keep In Step

Pep and syncopation are key words to W. L. band members.

During football season the faithful and active musicians besides marching at all our home games, journeyed to Indianapolis Washington for a game performance and also to Ross-Ade Stadium where they participated, with eighty-one other schools, in the first State High School Band Day at Purdue. Band members covered many more miles in parades, including the Christmas parade and the Armed Forces Day parade.

As implied by its name, the "Pep" Band helped put the "pep" into pep sessions and also into some out-of-town games. Besides the pep band another "band within a band" has earned quite a name in the community entertainment sphere. This year the W. L. Dance Band played for a Little Theatre banquet, several mixers and noon-time jazz sessions, plus a TV show.

Majorettes: C. Milligan, M. Dienhart, S. Frazer, E. Hoxsie.

Drum Major: Bill Castell.

Personalities

Thanks For The Memories Of....

The Friends We Have Made

School Board: Mr. Samuel Keller, Mr. John Moriarty, Mr. William Floyd, Mr. Henry Law.

Mr. Floyd

Although Mr. William Floyd, our school superintendent, has been very busy keeping the three West Lafayette schools running efficiently, he always finds time for a friendly conversation whenever he meets us in the halls. He is constantly striving to see that the standards of the West Lafayette School system are as high as can be attained. We owe a great deal of gratitude to this prominent personality who has helped us in innumerable ways to work out the many problems that arise during the school year.

School Board

Although students seldom come in contact with members of the School Board, everyone appreciates their fine work in making the West Lafayette school system one of the best in the state.

Their attention is now centered on the Frank A. Burtsfield Grade School which is under construction.

Mr. Samuel Keller is the newest member of the Board. Other members of the Board are Mr. J. Henry Law and Mr. John H. Moriarty.

Miss Adams

In addition to being Mr. Floyd's very efficient secretary, Miss Pearl Adams serves as cashier in the cafeteria and handles all financial affairs of the school including those of the classes and clubs. She is, at all times, the model of efficiency and dependability, and consequently the duties as treasurers of various organizations are made easier.

Mr. Hammer

Our principal, Mr. Carl Hammer, is always ready to help us with our problems and guide us in our planning for the future. The seniors especially need his advice and encouragement about class ratings, number of credits, and future education.

Mr. Hammer always attends our many sports events and often is seen chaperoning our dances. He teaches a junior-senior math class besides his many other duties.

As head man, he strives continually for the welfare of each student and the improvement of our school.

Mrs. Camp

"Good morning, West Lafayette Senior High." These were the words of Mrs. Helen Camp many times when answering the telephone in the office. Originally from Brooklyn, New York, she became our secretary in April, 1954. She dislikes Indiana climate after having spent several years in Florida.

She knows the public address system panel and supervises the giving of announcements in the absence of Mr. Hammer. "Watching the kids give announcements" gives Mrs. Camp many amusing moments. She is also responsible for ringing the fire bell on those cold mornings.

Student Service

Members of the Student Council contribute their time before school in the mornings and afternoons to perform a service for all students. The Student Service makes its home in the attendance office where council members sell paper, supplies, and tickets.

Bill Huron, president of the Student Council, was in charge of the project this past year. A purely non-profit organization, the Service was originally formed to relieve our office secretary of the selling of small items and this purpose it has surely fulfilled.

Seniors- At Last!

OFFICERS: Jane Evers, Vice-President;
John Manhart, President; Ann Buche,
Secretary; Allen Keller, Treasurer.
Sponsor, Mrs. M. Wolever.

Remember the good old days? Those days when we went to school for only half a day and enjoyed many a mid-morning nap? In the first grade, all marveled at our toy instrument band, especially with the milk bottle xylophone. When asked if we'd all brought clean "hankies," those who'd forgotten sheepishly held up paint rags and usually the teacher was convinced. The numerous games of "Blackman" in second grade produced many a skinned knee. Mid-morning milk and crackers provided welcome refreshment for us as third graders.

That next year in fourth grade we became staunch supporters of the bubble gum industry. A minor panic resulted the day Jane Jamison found a tick on the neck of Jane Shepherd. Miss Kent promptly burned it off under the careful watch of the whole class! And don't forget the Truth or Consequences show Linda Seaton and Ginger Lehker wrote. After two unsuccessful tries by the thrower, Jane Messersmith ended with a pie in her face.

Our mothers marveled at our abilities to dance in an exhibition of the Mexican Hat Dance when we as fifth graders presented our Mexican Pageant.

We hold the distinct honor of being the first sixth grade in Junior High. The chalk fights in Mrs. Taylor's room, and Miss Jordan's alarm clock set so recess wouldn't be missed--how can we forget! And the time the boys tacked mistletoe over Mrs. Taylor's door, then lined up to "get" all the girls! One of our budding musicians, John Allen, had a one-note cymbal solo in the Spring Concert. He wound up and swung, but he missed the cymbal and hit his knee. A loud exclamation of "ouch" brought down the house. Sixth grade saw the arrival of a new boy (Ernie) who took some of the girls' minds off the high school football heroes for awhile.

Remember in eighth grade when all the girls wore jeans and their fathers' baggy shirts to school? Mr. Fabian promptly hauled us to the gym and showed us how to tuck in a shirt---properly. We learned to square dance on Saturday nights but managed to drive the Folk-A-Whirlers crazy in the process. The Girl Scout plays, Honor Day, and snowball fights with the Theta Chi house added to our activities. The night our basketball team won the Twin City Championship was a memorable one. All dashed over to Arth's and before the night was over, many were threatened with eviction.

As "cubs" in Senior High we spent many hours with our bug collections and gardens. It was rumored that the vegetable gardens provided the Kellers with food for most of the summer!?! The party at the "Hills" highlighted our sophomore year, and as juniors we spent many Saturdays on paper drives to earn money for a worthy cause, our class treasury.

After four years of high school which have flown by, we are now seniors looking toward the future. Never-to-be-forgotten are our inspiring experiences in the W.L. schools.

Senior Committees

Among the projects the Ways and Means Committee undertook this year were holding paper drives, selling parking space for Purdue football games, and presenting the Senior Class Play. Cathy Tiffin and Bill Shigley were Chairmen, while Jane Shepherd, John Eddy, Carolyn Little, George Kuipers, Dolores Robinson, Rosalind Payne, and Jim Milligan worked with them.

Two of the high spots of our senior year were the Senior Convo and the Senior Class Play. The original and hilarious script for the Senior Convo was a "Castell-Cohen" masterpiece. The chairman of the play reading committee, Betsy Randolph, was assisted by Elaine Crane and Alva Kemmer. The play chosen for production on May 5th and 6th was "Time Out For Ginger."

Before graduation and commencement exercises, all seniors must be outfitted in the traditional cap and gown. The committee in charge of selecting and ordering caps and gowns was headed by Ronnie Roberts, with Barbara Roberts, Charlie Hatcher, and Janet Woodruff helping.

Middle name or not? That is the question so many seniors asked when ordering their name cards from Paula Moriarty, chairman of the Name Cards Committee. Other members of this committee, also in charge of ordering Commencement invitations, included Virginia Lehker, Dick Fontaine, Kaye Baker, Marsha Herrick, and Jim Milligan.

Ever since we were freshmen we've looked forward to the last week of our senior year known as Gala Week. The possibilities of replacing Gala Week with a senior trip were looked into by Chairman Jane Evers and her committee consisting of Linda Seaton, Karen Straszheim, George Gilchrist, Ann Shuman, Bob Miller, Gretchen Counsman, Jim Rogge, and Sandra McNear.

Mr. Eddy, Sponsor of the Junior Class, helped to lead the Juniors through a very successful year. The members of the class chose these capable officers: President, Mark Freeman; Vice President, Rosalie Sabbagh; Secretary, Carol Shigley; Treasurer, Bob Backoff.

The Juniors began earning money by having several paper drives in the summer and by selling parking space before the Purdue-Illinois football game.

"Room For One More," chosen to be the class play, was presented November 10 and 11.

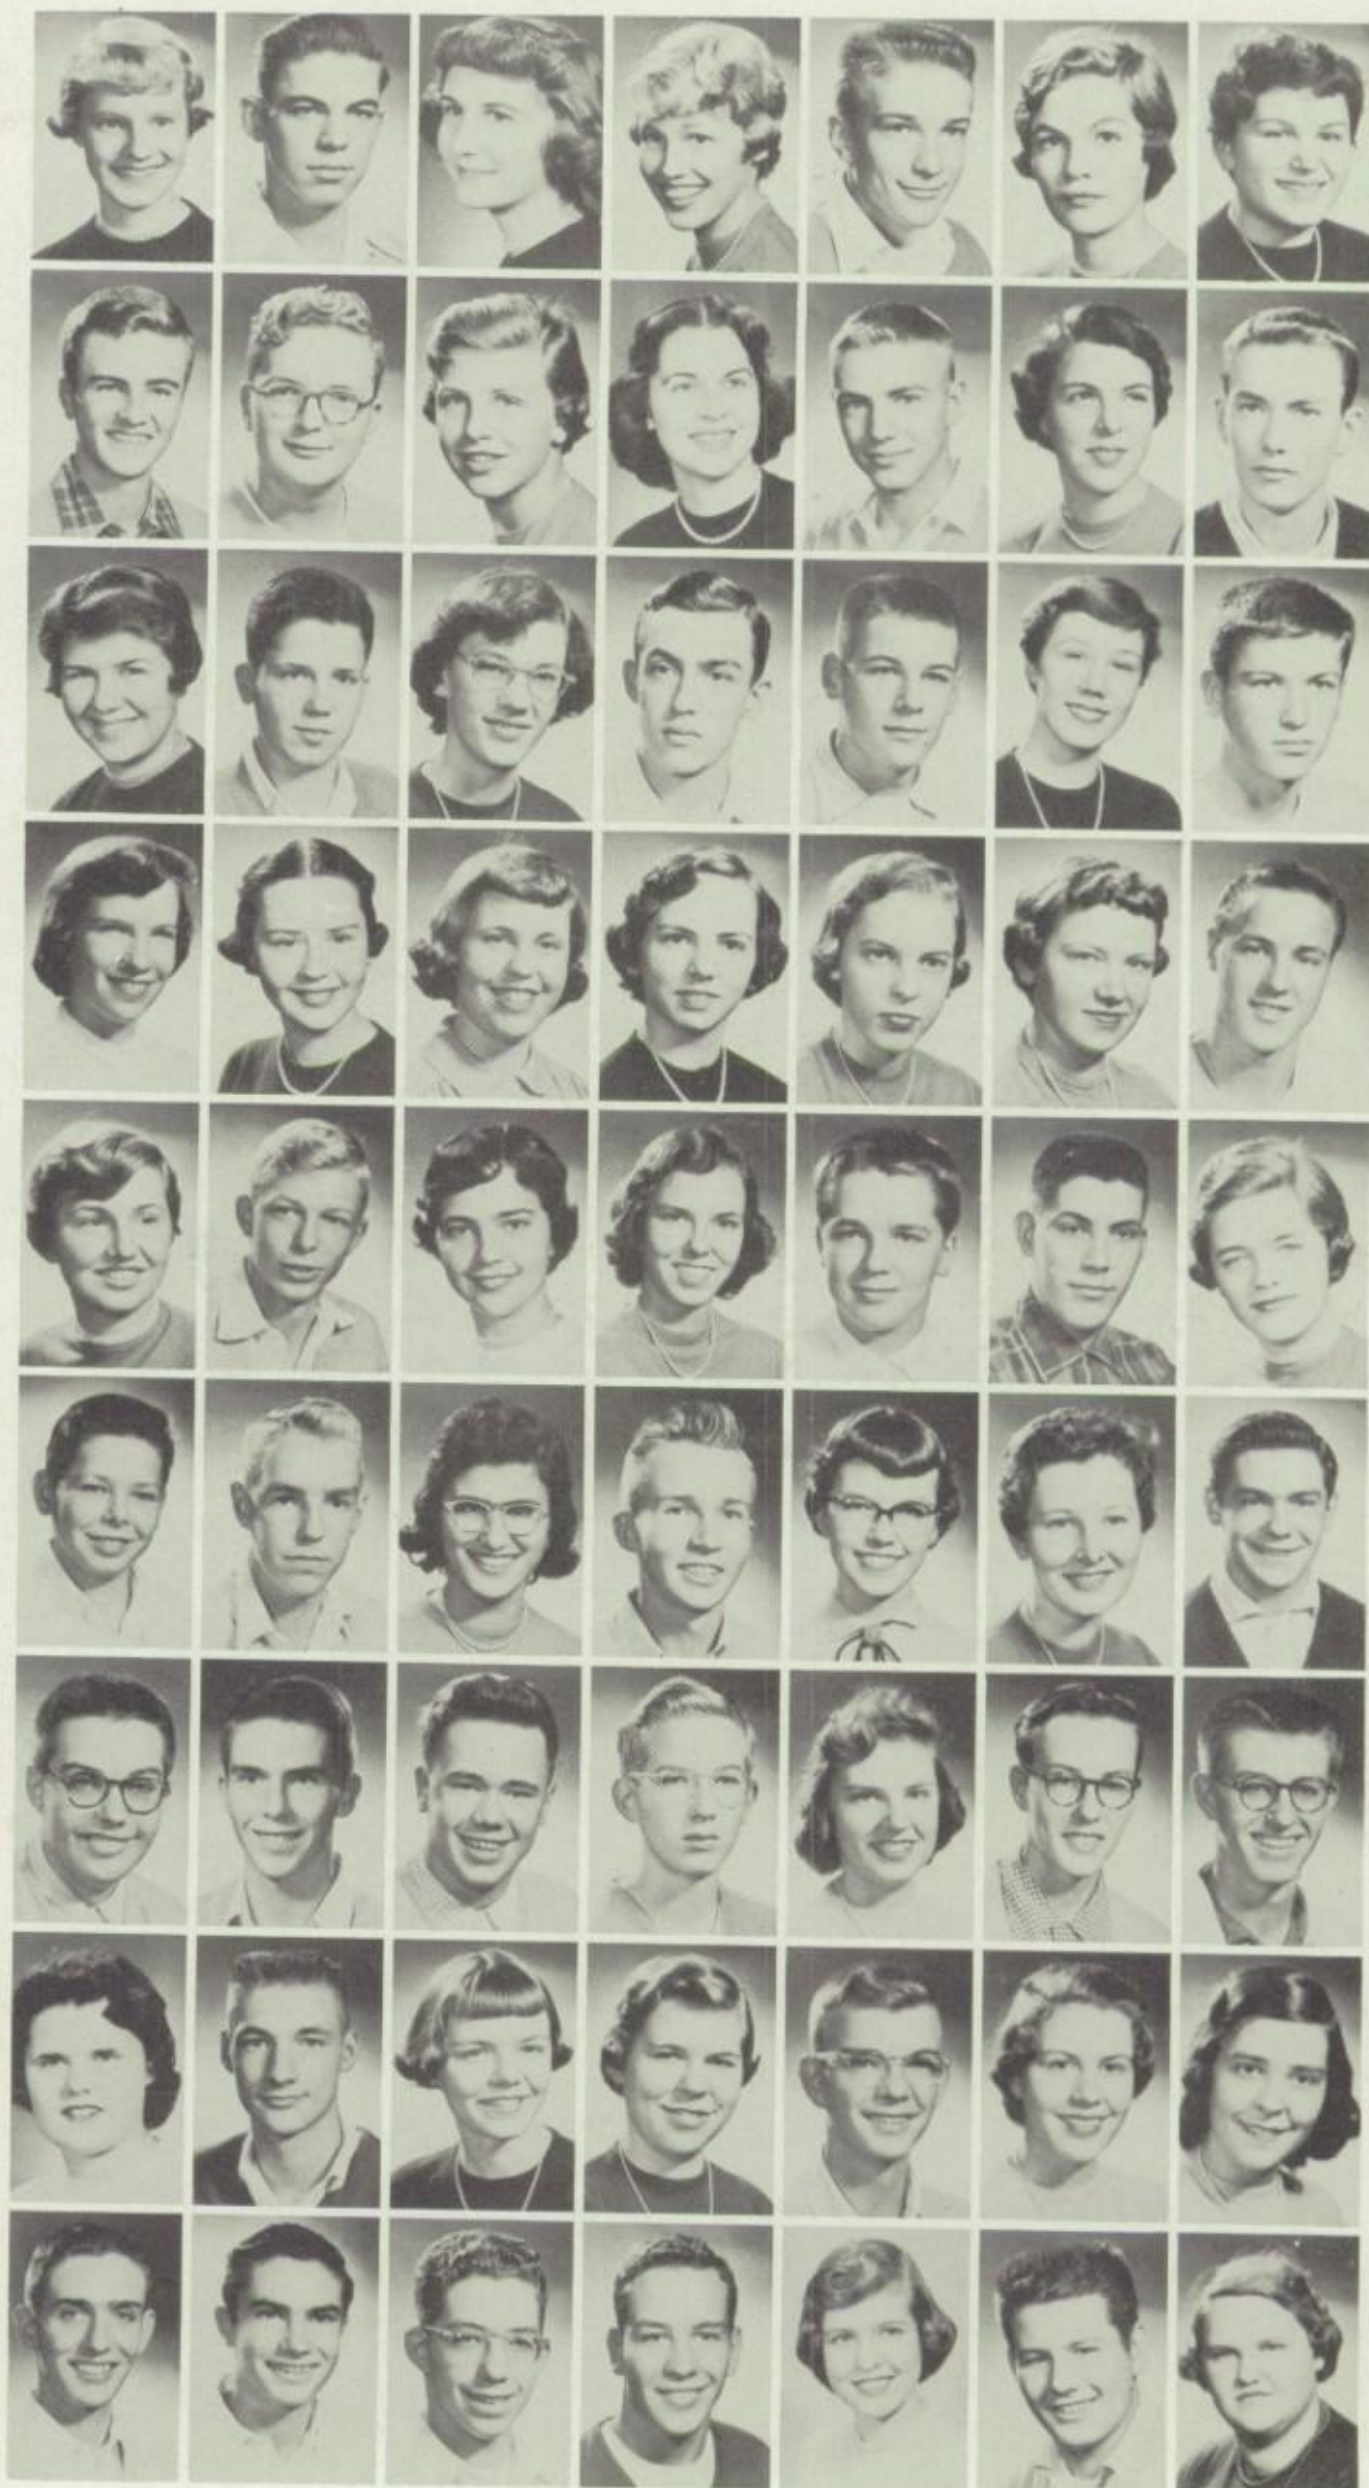

Susie Dienhart, Molly Loop, Liz Hoxie, and Susan Risk were members of the Girls' Club executive board while Lucy Freehafer was Vice-president of AHEA. Also serving on committees were Molly Loop, Peggy Cable, Karen Farmer, Carolyn Milligan, and Susan Risk, who served on the AHEA executive committee.

Susie Dienhart was elected B-team cheerleader and Chip Holcomb and Derek Sharvelle were elected as the football co-captains for the following year.

Den board president, Ginger Vaught, provided exciting and interesting movies for the members to see. Helping her were Vice-president, Jane Fuller, and secretary-treasurer, Mary Losey. Associate editors for the Scarlette were Judy Henderson and Chuck Edmondson.

Candidates from the junior class on the football and basketball courts were Molly Loop, Karen Ullstrup, Sandy Frazer, and Lucy Freehafer.

Unpredictable Sophomores

The class of '57 had fewer members this year than any other class in school but their enthusiasm helped to make up for the lack in numbers. Particularly enthusiastic were five boys, Ivan Mounts, Mel Lamberson, Bill Davis, Bob De La Croix, and John Taylor, who won their letters in football, having helped to boost the team to victory. Patti Peyton, as a varsity cheerleader, led the fans in cheering during the sports season. Betsie Kemmer helped to boost spectator spirit for the basketball B-team, and she also added a delightful spice to the near-professional Dance Band as its singer.

Jane Chapman was selected to serve as sophomore attendant to the football queen, and Patti Peyton was on the basketball queen's court.

John Bachman served on the Speech Arts Club executive committee as sophomore representative, and he played the leading role in the three-act production "Captain Applejack." Also in the cast were Bill Baugh and Patti Peyton. Acting as treasurer of Ahea Club was Barbara Messersmith, and George Lang and Patti Peyton served on the Student Council.

The cast of the Deviltries included these sophomores: Jane Bardwell, Mike Liste, Donna Lascoe, Charlene Young, Barbara Messersmith, Suzie Wiselogle, John Taylor, Dave Sabbagh, Betsie Kemmer, Patti Peyton, and Joe Binney.

Frantic Freshmen

The Freshmen, Class of '58, made a good start in their new career of being big, sophisticated high school students. Their many talents and abilities have and will continue to add much to W. L. H. S. in the years to come.

Two of the active frosh were Diana Kemmer and Ann Weiler, who were elected to be freshman representatives to Student Council and Speech Arts, respectively. Ann Weiler took part in "The Tenth Word," a play which was presented for the Speech Arts Play Festival, and Margo Maschmeyer was cast in the annual Speech Arts Play, "Captain Applejack."

The freshman girls modern dance class made a big hit with their CanCan number in the "Devilttries of '55." Other freshman Deviltries participants were Iran and Ivan Floyd, Tom and Jerry Buche, Peter Kohnke, Bob Bradley, Ann McFadden, and Diana Kemmer.

The Freshman winners in the Scarlette Christmas Contest included Ann Weiler, Murray Miller, Margaret Mayo, Sarah Mavity, Jane Livingstone and James Shick.

Dear B lubb.
Wipe that slop off your hands!
We've had a lot of fun together back in that ~~the~~ house. Practice up on the shot and heave it 60 feet.
Hope you have a lot of fun next year in P.U.
Mike (Garbage Eater, Fat Man etc)

Bill,
 Remember good old
 Dance Band. It was really great and a lot of fun.
 Keep going in speech, you have a terrific voice!
 Be good and have the best of luck in the future years.
 Your Buddy

Bill,
 Well drummer boy, you
 sure can play those things.
 I really enjoyed that jam
 session at Mary Lou's.
 Be good and I'll see you around at PU.
 Ernie

Dear Bill,
 Are you going to "simply say"
 at graduation? I think it'll be bad to see the seniors go, but life must go on.
 What college are you going to?
 To Kansas one it is, have a lot of fun and be bad!! (See you
 "be good" in everyone else's annual, so for variety, be bad!)
 See you next Friday night.
 Paul '57

Dear Bill,
Are you the one
we have to thank for the "clean" silverware this year? Ah, yes - what would life be like without that cafeteria & its food (?)! See ya next year at P. U.; since we live in the same neck of the woods maybe we'll see each other once a semester!
Jan

Dear Bill,
We really
had a ball at South Base huh? Really tore up the town! Shig, you're really the funniest & greatest guy I've met and what a drummer?!!
Best of everything always,

 Maybe in a sample of years.
 Bill

Dear Bill,
 you're really great
 on those drums (yeh man)
 Good luck in later life

 Love D.

Bill,
 Here's to a great badminton player.
 Keep pounding on those drums and good luck in everything you do. Cathy

Dear Bill,
 Remember the fun(?)
 in Government class
 this past year. What would we have done
